Howlett Urges Mandatory Audit of All Taxing Agencies

Legislation creating a Public Moneys Accounting Code providing for mandatory audits of all local governmental units should be the No. 1 objective of every taxpayer and businessman as a means of self protection against the high cost of government, Illinois State Auditor Michael J. Howlett said in an address here Tuesday afternoon.

Speaking before the Granite City Rotary Club in a noon luncheon meeting in the YMCA, Howlett pointed out that the people of Illinois spend less of their personal income for state government than the people of almost all other states, but that the story of local governments is still another picture.

In fact, he pointed out, Illinois has more local governments than any other state in the union—a total of 6452.

The cost of local government in Illinois, he said, is four times greater than the cost of the state government.

Irregularity of Methods

For this reason, Howlett said, a strict accounting of monies spent by local governments should be made to the taxpayers, because, "there is a surprising irregularity of auditing of local governments, particularly among special taxing agencies for which there is no legislative provisions requiring audits by outside professional auditors."

Howlett said that Illinois should have "a state mandatory accountings law under which all local governments would be audited regularly . . . businessmen should take the lead in this movement as a protection against dissipation by local governments of the taxes that are becoming heavier."

He related the instance of a particular township meeting in which only two items were on the agenda—a law pertaining to leashing of dogs and the township budget for the year.

"Two hundred persons showed up at the beginning of the meeting to find out what was going to happen to their dogs," Howlett related, "but when that issue was settled, only four persons remained in the meeting for the discussion on the township budget."

Embezzlement Noted

He told of a case of embezzlement in Bensonville, Ill., in which the city treasurer diverted the city's sales tax income from the state to use of his personal business through a falsification of vouchers—a defalcation that eventually was brought to light through an auditing report.

"In many instances auditing by outside professional auditors is now required by state law, Howlett said. "These include municipalities, townships, school districts and most counties, but there literally are thousands of special districts—mosquito districts, park districts, levee districts, drainage districts and oth-

ICC Hearing Set May 9

Action Group Getting Action on Crossing

Action is the watchword of the Organization for Community Action—and a big step forward in its goal to attain warning protection at the Maryville road rail crossing was achieved last week.

On Tuesday, the Illinois Commerce Commission announced at Chicago that it has cited three railroads and has set a hearing for 10 a.m. May 9 at Springfield. About 15 members of the community action group are planning to attend.

Notified to appear for an inquiry to determine if the hazardous condition should be eliminated at the heavily-used crossing are representatives of the Norfolk & Western, New York Central and Alton, Mobile & Ohio railroads and the Madison county and state highway superintendents.

The citation was issued on data compiled by engineers for the ICC who met with citizens and local officials at the Chamber of Commerce office here on April 7.

Text of Citation

It states the railroad and highway officials are "to show cause, if any, why an order should not be issued requiring the provision of adequate and appropriate protective fa[illegible]gs at the Maryville road rail crossing."

ICC engineers estimate the installation of flasher lights and gates would cost $50,000 to $75,000, the state and county would pay 80% of the cost and the railroads share would be 10%.

A copy of the ICC notice and citation was sent to Mayor Partney, who along with city council members, was praised by the

C. P. Whitehead Resigns as GSI Board Chairman

C. P. Whitehead, chairman of the board of General Steel Industries, Inc., announced his retirement today during a quarterly meeting of the board of directors in the executive offices at Granite City.

Whitehead, who joined the company in 1919 has been chairman of the board since 1964, and previously served as president of General Steel Industries, Inc. since 1945. During the 1950's he was responsible for a diversification program that resulted in much of the company's growth.

W. Ashley Gray jr., president of General Steel, said: "Mr. Whitehead's 47 years with GSI are synonymous with the growth and diversification of the company, much of which results from the success of his business philosophy." Under his administration the executive offices of GSI were moved back to Granite City in 1948.

Gray announced that Whitehead will remain as a member of the board and will serve as chairman of the finance committee.

Whitehead, who lives at Clayton, Mo., has served as both president and campaign chairman of the United Fund. He is a director of Emerson Electric Co., St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Co., Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., and an advisory director of the First National Bank in St. Louis and St. Louis Union Trust Co.

Gray also announced the election of Preston D. Law to the board of directors. Law is president of GSI's Flex-O-Lite subsidiary at Affton, Mo.

Ice Rink Bonds Sold at 3.84% Interest Rate

The Granite City park board Tuesday night accepted a low bid of 3.84445% interest on sale of its $475,000 ice skating rink bond issue. A 4% maximum rate had been specified on the Dec. 18 ballot, and 3¾% was regarded as likely.

Total interest cost to the park district in the sale to Mercantile Trust Co., St. Louis, will be $118,072, described as within about $500 of the cost projected in advance.

Thirty potential bond buyers were notified of the sale but the bond market has undergone fluctuations recently and only three bids were received. Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Co., Chicago, bid 3.8846%, and First National Bank, St. Louis, bid 3.9244%.

Higher Education Status Improving in Madison County

(This is the sixth in a series of articles relating to the recently completed planning study of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission.)

Higher education is taking on an increasingly more important status in the Madison-St. Clair county area, based predominantly on development of the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Campus, plans for junior college districts and increasing attention by school districts to adult education.

Pointing up the need for continuous comprehensive planning of school requirements as the need develops, the two-year study of planning data for the bi-county area points out that "as population concentrations increase in the area, the development of more institutions of higher learning in Madison and St. Clair counties can be expected."

Those concerned with higher education in this area should, therefore, pay close heed to the developing needs of the area and adequate provisions should be made, the report recommends.

In a sectional report entitled "Community Facilities," involving a study of existing public services throughout the area, SWIMAPC states that "St. Clair county's high school districts operate more economically than do those in Madison county, but it also appears that school districts in Madison county demonstrate a much closer pattern of cost relative to one another than is demonstrated in St. Clair county."

List Parks, Memorials

For data purposes, the report devotes 35 pages to text, tables and charts on the number of schools in the two-county area, pupil load, number of teachers, cost per pupil and other detailed information on public schools, as well as private and parochial schools.

The sectional report, however, also contains considerable data covering the area's park districts, state parks and memorials and municipal parks and recreation areas. In this respect, the report points out that there now exists no one particular reference source which gives the size and location of all parks and recreational facilities in the bi-county area.

"This fact demonstrates," says the report, "the need for a recreational facility study which should include sufficient territory around the two counties to establish a clear picture of existing facilities, present and future needs."

Madison and St. Clair counties, the report continues, contains a total of 16,640 acres of which about 700 acres comprise park and recreation areas. With the combined population of the area estimated at 550,000, this provides 15 acres of park or recreational land per 1000 persons. Illinois has 57 acres of park or recreational land per 1000 persons, and this is the lowest in the nation, the report continues.

Lowest of Eight

In 1965 the report states, the state of Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development, divided the state into eight regions for outdoor recreational purposes. Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties make up Region 7 which, with 4016 acres of land for outdoor recreational purposes, is the lowest of all eight regions.

"It would appear, therefore," the report continues, "that a complete survey of recreational areas—from major state parks to neighborhood playgrounds—should be made to determine exactly the recreational position

City Hires Engineer; Piles On Projects

Research, Planning & Design Firm, St. Louis, Given 8-Month Contract

Granite City once again has a consulting engineer.

The council voted unanimously Monday night to employ the firm of Research, Planning & Design Associates, St. Louis, with Paul Hagler, 3237 Aubrey avenue, as the resident engineer.

The aldermen quickly assigned at least a half dozen projects to the firm, including a study to provide a cost estimate for a new through roadway to parallel the railroad tracks from 22nd street to Pontoon road.

Other jobs are to prepare a design to beautify a sewer lift station on Fehling road, prepare plans to widen the bridge over the Nameoki area storm water drainage ditch at Victory drive and Terminal avenue; to plan drainage of a "lake" east of Lynch avenue and plans to revamp a defective drainage systems in the 3000 block of Nameoki road and on 21st street street between Monroe and Omaha streets.

No Engineer for Year

The city has been without a consulting engineer for over a year, since the $5000-a-year job was taken away from David Johnston & Associates, East St. Louis.

Research, Planning & Design currently is the city's motor fuel tax engineering firm with Kenneth Kleberger as the project engineer, and the firm has been taking on special projects for the city in the past year.

Its fee as consulting engineer will be $3600 a year with engineering services to be provided for 40 hours a month for that fee. Special projects will be carried out at standard rates set forth by the Society of Professional Engineers. The initial contract is to cover eight months.

The St. Louis firm was recommended Monday night by the Street committee, which several weeks ago had suggested the council hire the local firm of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab as consulting engineer for unlimited services at $4800 a year. The firm's offices are across Edison

Madison-Venice Program

Rabies Inoculations Start Saturday at Venice Garage

Madison and Venice residents may obtain rabies inoculations for their pets at a cost of $2.50 per shot on four separate dates in the two communities, Madison Mayor Stephen Maeras told council members Tuesday evening.

The initial clinic will be conducted from 2:30-4:30 p.m. this Saturday in the Venice city garage on 4th street and will be repeated at the same location and hours next Thursday, May 7.

Inoculation clinics will be held at the Madison city garage, 1526 Third street on the two alternate Saturdays, April 30 and May 14. Hours will be the same as maintained at the Venice clinics.

In urging residents to take advantage of the clinics, Mayor Maeras explained that rabies certificates are required before pet owners can obtain a city dog license, due later next month.

Total cost of rabies shot per dog is $3, the mayor said. However, continuing with a practice established in previous years, the city will contribute 50-cents toward the overall cost per animal. Dr. L. H. Holt, Granite City veterinarian, will conduct the clinics.

Daylight Time Starts Sunday

Quad-City residents will lose that customary one hour of sleep early Sunday morning when Daylight Saving Time is initiated for the summer.

Officially daylight time becomes effective at 2 a.m. Sunday morning, but Quad-Cityans needn't stay up that late to set their clocks ahead one hour. They can make the adjustment before going to bed Saturday night, or can do it after they arise Sunday morning, if they prefer.

Under new legislation all of Illinois will go on daylight time this year and will continue until the last Sunday in October.

Bellcoff Named To 14th Term as School President

The Madison school board re-elected John Bellcoff, naming him to his 14th term as school board president, in a yearly reorganization meeting Tuesday night. Chester McManaway was elected board secretary to succeed Frank L. Derner, who had held the post for the past year.

Reorganization of the board followed completion of board business by the 1965-66 board membership, including Dt. Steve Geroff, who did not seek re-election.

The new board, including William Vavra, who succeeds Dr. Geroff, went into and hour-long closed-door caucus before beginning the reorganization meeting at 9:10 p.m.

Loud Voices Behind Door

The caucus was confined to board members, with School Supt. Wensel Brown and Board Attorney John Gitchoff sitting outside the caucus door along with reporters and others while the board members discussed issues that frequently were emphasized by loud voices from within the caucus room.

After the board members came out of the private caucus, reorganization moved swiftly.

Immediately following election of Bellcoff and McManaway, the board unanimously reappointed Gitchoff as attorney, Brown as superintendent and Raymond Kozielek as school treasurer.

No motion setting the secretarial pay was heard. However, it was indicated later that the pay will continue to be $75 a month or $900 a year. The treasurer, who will be in the second year of a two-year terms, is paid $100 a month or $1200 a year.

Busy Meeting

The board reorganization came on one of the board's busiest meeting nights, which required the board to convene first for a public hearing on revision of the school district budget.

In this part of the session, board members voted approval of an amendment to the budget suggested by Supt. Brown, only major effect of which was to increase the budget item for summer school operation from $1500 to $5000.

Leo Wolf, contractor, was apparent low bidder for construction of additional classrooms, a

Village Expansion Can Affect Future Of Entire Area

By William F. Winter

The Pontoon Beach village annexation proposal — subject of a circuit court hearing next Tuesday, April 26 — can have a major effect on the 700-acre area involved and the entire Quad-Cities for many years to come.

Alternatives facing residents of the area are as follows:

1. Annex to the village, as proposed in the petition asking the court to call an annexation election.
2. Remain unincorporated.
3. Or look into the advantages and disadvantages of joining some other municipality, such as Granite City.

Many observers see the village expansion proposal as a behind-the-scenes effort by political opponents of Granite City — some even entrenched in its own government — to eliminate the possibility of virtually all future city expansion.

Created by a narrow 13-vote margin Dec. 8, 1962, the village is still relatively small but has the potential of becoming a giant big enough to "seal off" Granite City.

Validity of Petitions

The April 26 hearing will be limited primarily to whether the petitions are valid and whether other basic legal requirements have been met in the request for a referendum.

But it centers attention on an issue which, although it has aroused little public interest, potentially can have a profound effect on the future of the entire local community.

At the outset, it should be noted that there is nothing intrinsically "bad" or "good" about one municipality or another.

The distinction made in this article is viability — the capability for normal growth and development, combined with the necessary ingredients to fulfill the responsibilities of administering municipal services.

Balanced Tax Base

Granite City has a balanced tax base — business, industrial and residential — considered necessary to finance a full range of city services and keep taxes relatively low. In other words, local plants shoulder much of the cost of operating local-level government.

The village has, virtually all the powers of a city under state law, but lacks such tax base balance. Nor would the proposed annexation provide assessment balance; in general, municipalities do not derive enough new revenue from added residential areas to pay the cost of extending services to them.

With an extremely limited valuation, Pontoon Beach has functioned with a minimum of spending and services, aided by the fact that it did not have much territory in which to provide services. Such limitations would be felt more sharply if the present half-square-mile area was more than tripled in size.

Young Pontoon and 70-year-old Granite City have lived together in harmony since the village was created.

Open Political Power Play?

But the major annexation plan makes it an entirely new situation. The open use of political power, if this is what is behind it, seems aimed at dooming

County Detention Home Plan Is Revived

Petitions for Special Referendum in Fall Gain Board's Support

In a resolution pointing up a "serious need" for a Madison county detention home, the county board of supervisors Wednesday morning gave its support to a movement that would place a referendum proposal for construction of such an institution on the general election ballot in November.

The resolution was submitted by the board's Detention Home committee headed by William B. Webb, Granite City assistant supervisor. It pointed out that a referendum for construction of a detention home by taxation can be placed on the ballot in response to petitions containing such a request.

The board's support of such a request was pledged in the bill, which also pointed out that a number of county grand juries have recommended such a home be built in the county. Plans call for a county-wide circulation of petitions.

No cost estimates or methods of financing were mentioned in the resolution which was adopted unanimously by the board without discussion. The county has $124,000 for such institution in a special fund built up with sales tax revenue. The fund has not grown since 1961 when sales tax income was diverted to the general fund.

Okay Zoning Changes

The board also gave approval, with only slight debate, to proposed amendments of the county's zoning ordinance, designed to streamline the administrative section of the law.

The board's Zoning Committee, headed by C. A. Nicolet of Godfrey, submitted a report in which it pointed out that the zoning law amendments would consolidate a number of sections that previously have made application difficult. The administrative section retails procedure and implements functioning of the ordinance, the committee said.

Clarification of zoning variations and special uses is provided in the amended section. Wednesday's action was the first amendment of the zoning ordinance since it was passed by the county board in 1963.

The zoning board of appeals which spearheaded the move to redraft the administrative section of the ordinance, has announced plans for revision of the sections on mobile homes and sanitary landfills.

Landolt Re-elected

Board members re-elected Harold Landolt, Alhambra, incumbent board chairman for the past three years, to another term as board chairman during a special meeting that followed the regular session.

The reorganization meeting lasted about 20 minutes, including a five minute recess in which a four-man rules committee prepared a report in which it recommended continuation of existing board rules with only a few minor changes.

Numerous Bands, Floats in July 2 Madison Parade

One of the biggest and most attractive parades ever held in the Quad-Cities is being planned by the Madison 75th Jubilee Committee, it was announced today.

The celebration will extend from Wednesday, June 29, through the long Fourth of July weekend, with performances of a historical pageant on the first five nights. The parade is set for 2 p.m. Saturday, July 2.

The route taken by floats and other motorized units probably will go through many sections of the Quad-Cities, Mayor Stephen Maeras, general chairman of the jubilee, told the Press-Record this week. Bands and other marching units are to participate in later stages of the parade through part of Granite City and into Madison.

Mike Sasyk and Police Chief Emmett Pazia are jubilee co-chairmen, and Harry R. Johnson is parade marshal and chairman.

"Many businesses and groups have registered for the parade and many others plan to do so," Johnson said. "We expect that the parade will take considerable time to pass a given point, and it is shaping up as an event that will long be remembered in this area.

Llama, Calliope, Chariot

"Some of the participants would amaze you. We have to date three drum and bugle corps, two marching bands, a clown band on a fire truck, a motor scooter patrol, a llama pulling a wagon, a steam calliope, antique classical automobiles, drill teams, cowboys and Indians, a chariot drawn by ponies, and two saddle clubs, with many more bands and marching groups being contacted.

"Also included in the parade will be a float manned by Wayne Scannell and his bearded 'brothers of the brush,' and many floats exhibited by various civic organizations and business places."

On the night of the parade, activities will include music by a 500-voice chorus selected and directed by Mrs. Valerie Stephens.

6 Council Members Protest

Schellenger Gets New Post With Assessor; $350 Salary

A double listing among township bills for payments to Waldo Schellenger brought forth protests from several Granite City aldermen Monday night.

However, the two payments to Schellenger as a deputy assessor for the first half of April amounting to $120 and $175 for the last half of the month in his new position as real estate clerk were approved by an 11-to-6 vote.

The council met in advance of the regular city meeting to consider township business.

Assessor James Barton, who was sitting in the council room with Schellenger, was called upon to explain the change. He said Schellenger was to be paid on a monthly basis rather than hourly and that his new salary would be $350 a month.

He added that the council calls for salaries to be submitted in advance, and that the $175 is for work from April 15 to 30th. Schellenger's job is to appraise real estate property. Deputy assessors handle personal property.

Separate Roll Call Vote

Schellenger's salary was voted on separately from the remainder of the town fund bills. Approving the change were Aldermen Noon Basarich, Bartosiak, Johnson, Dallas, Moerlien, Parmley, Robertson, Poulos and Green, and Town Clerk Pendleton. Opposing it were Aldermen Whitmer, Sternberg, Thompson and Frey and Mayor Partney.

Sternberg challenged Barton's reasoning for the change in Schellenger's position, and was told by Barton to make his comments outside sometime. Sternberg said he would.

The town fund disbursement total was $4042, including $1703 for deputy assessors. Other payments were $187 half-month salary to Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer, $320 to Assessor Barton, $232 to Chief Assessor Clerk Margaret Hornberger, $162 to Deputy Clerk Shirley Voegl; $175 to Schellenger; $130 to Town Atty. William Schooley, $30 to Town Clerk Pendleton and $30 to Sandra Ragan for janitor service.

Assessor office expenses were $63 for telephone services, $45 agreement for one year, $41 for office supplies, $975 paid to Louis Agency for the supervisor's bond and $10 for a membership fee to the Illinois Welfare Association.

$ Deputy Assessors' Pay

The pay to deputy assessors was—Carrie Hensen, $126; Schellenger, $120; Laura Sykes, $33; Catherine Colligan, $120; Mary Wondra, $108; Wilma Roller, $127; Margaret Tempel, $126; Agnes Barunica, $126; Gladys Reeves, $126; Katherine Hinckly, $96; Vera LeMaster, $96; Theresa Naylor, $75; Gisella Nyers, $75; Reba Groves, $72; Josephine Reszely, $72; Dixie Ann Griffin, $106; Karmyn Wagner, $106.

Relief disbursements totaled $4397 and included $1978 for food, $1303 for hospitalization and medical care, $90 for rent, $43 for utilities and $25 for fuel. Administrative costs were $770 half-month salary total for the office staff, $73 for telephone service, $13 for supplies and $98 for printing.

Nameoki Road Construction Timetable to Give Travel Tips to Motorists

A timetable for construction work along Nameoki road to advise motorists in advance of any detours is to be prepared by the contractor and the city.

Alderman G. H. Sternberg, chairman of the Street committee, told council members Monday night that the contractor, Courtland Lybarger of General Contracting Co., is in Springfield this week to outline the construction program with state highway officials, and that the local plans will be relayed to the city as quickly as possible.

The improvement is to extend from Madison avenue to the north city limits.

The city's new consulting engineer firm of Research Planning & Design Associates, St. Louis, is to present a recommendation to the council on the location of a 15-inch drainage line along the Maryville road improvement to eliminate any need to remove the sidewalk along the west side of the roadway.

Sternberg said the new location of the line would require special design catchbasins that would cost about $250 more. The firm also is to prepare plans for relocation of the Maryville road sewer lift station.

The city's share of the Maryville road construction cost under a joint project with the county has been set at $53,064, while the county's cost for the improvement from the north city limits to old U. S. Bypass 66-40 (exclusive of the disputed rail crossing) will be $533,466.

Construction now is under way.

Rte. 151 Agreement

Revision of an agreement between the city and the state for the construction of Federal Aid Route 151 through West Granite and Lincoln Place was referred to the Street committee and Fifth Ward aldermen for study before presentation to the council. The proposal was submitted by the state highway department.

Alderman Nonn criticized the state highway department for not providing a connecting roadway at the new highway between West 20th street, Denver and Cayuga streets and for refusing to fence off the highway through the city.

He said turn-arounds proposed by the state are inadequate and not desirable.

Access Roads

The state plans to provide access to the highway at Niedringhaus avenue, West 20th street and Chicago street. Nonn contends additional frontage roadways are needed to connect the streets to be blocked by the limited access highway.

He also criticized the state for permitting vacated and boarded houses acquired for right-of-way to remain standing — presenting hazards to the neighborhoods.

The roadway through Granite City is to cost $2,405,000, including $445,200 for right-of-way, $25,300 for engineering and $1,934,500 for construction. It is not included in the state's construction program for this year.

Olive, Chestnut Contract

Award of a motor fuel tax construction contract, subject to state approval, to A. H. Seebold Co. on its bid of $58,949 for improvement to sections of Olive and Chestnut streets was approved by the council. The only other bid was $66,360 by Bituminous Fuel & Oil Co. of Collinsville. The engineer estimate was $62,739.

Opposing the contract award were Aldermen Rutledge, Whitmer, Sternberg, Thompson and Fry. Alderman Dallas had left the meeting to go to work when the vote was taken. Voting for the award were Nonn, Rasarich, Bartosiak, Johnson, Boyd, Moerlien, Parmley, Robertson, Poulos and Green.

On recommendation of Research Planning & Design—also the city's new traffic fuel engineer—the council approved award of contracts for the summer arterial street maintenance program. The purchase of salt for winter use was held up since identical bids of $20.60 per 100 pounds, was received from three firms. The engineer had estimated the cost at $19.

The city took the same action last year, but then purchased salt. Sternberg said the city used little salt this past year and may have enough for next year, since Street Supt. Warfield mixes salt with cinders supplied the city by General Steel Industries, Inc.

Mayor is Critical

Mayor Parmley was critical of the 15-cent per gallon price for crude oil to be used on unimproved streets. He said the figure was too high but that the city had been unable to get a lower bid.

Materials to be purchased from Midwest Blacktop Roads Co. of Collinsville total $35,457 in cost.

Included are 6550 gallons of road oil at 15 cents a gallon, $1,476; 300 gallons of liquid MC-3 asphalt at 17½ cents a gallon, $875; 765 gallons of MC-1 liquid asphalt at 17½ cents a gallon, $153; 313 tons of seal coat, applied at $5.71 a ton, $17,162, and 600 tons of patching materials at $8 a ton, $4800.

Other bids accepted were for 12 tons of packaged asphalt, $46.80 a ton for a total cost of $561, and for 360 tons of crushed stone at $1.95 a ton for a total cost of $702. The asphalt bid was by Wilco Chemical Co. of Hammond, Ind., and the stone bid by St. Louis Slag Co.

Projects Authorized

Authorization was given for a call for bids to install curbs and gutters along Mitchell avenue and to proceed with a drainage line relocation along 21st street between Monroe and Omaha streets in cooperation with Granite City Steel Co.

The street department is to do street grading on the Mitchell avenue project and also for the shoulders along the 21st street drainage project as well as replacing a defective right-inch line with a 12 inch line. The steel firm is to provide slag for the shoulder improvement.

Approval was given for the Thomas Skerle firm, which was awarded the city's curb and sidewalk replacement contract for 1966, to start work as soon as possible to replace 140 feet of curb and 1488 square feet of sidewalk at the old driveways for the razed post office building, now a new downtown park. The driveways are on Delmar avenue and on 20th street.

Skerle also was authorized to get a head start, if possible before the start of the city's new fiscal year on May 1, and begin work on any other needed sidewalk replacement projects designated by Street Supt. Warfield.

Fehling Road Hazard

Referred to the Street committee was a recommendation by Alderman Boyd for a study to be made at the Fehling road State street junction to eliminate a traffic hazard.

Boyd declined a suggestion to refer the study to the city's traffic engineer, saying he didn't care to confer with the engineer. Boyd is one of the two Third Ward aldermen seeking an injunction to halt enforcement of the traffic expert's proposal for revision of the one-way street system.

The alderman commented that the only way to safety drive through the hazardous junction would be with a Sherman tank.

City Atty. Allen advised Alderman Robertson by letter that it would be legal for the city to set load limits on arterial streets. The alderman said large and heavy trucks have been causing damage to homes along streets designated as arterial and he called for regulations to be prepared and enforced. Allen said he based his opinion on data obtained from state highway engineers.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. was given permission to excavate for installation of a cable in the alley northwest of Wabash avenue between Spring and Bremen avenues.

The council voted down a request for the city's paint striper to be rented to shopping centers for marking parking spaces on their lots.

An ordinance is to be prepared to establish a loading zone on 19th street at the Tri-City Grocery. Two parking meters are to be removed.

Steel Mill Earnings Down; Picking Up in 2nd Quarter

Granite City Steel Co. had net income of $1,752,000, or 40 cents per share of common stock, in the first quarter of 1966, "a period which started with the steel business very slow but ended on a strong upward trend that is continuing in the second quarter," Nicholas P. Veeder, chairman of the board and president, said Wednesday after a meeting of the board of directors.

The company had net income of $3,242,000, or 75 cents per share of common stock, in the first quarter of 1965 when Granite City Steel had record production and shipments for a single quarter.

"Steel industry production lagged in January and February of 1966 as manufacturers worked down the unusually large inventories accumulated in 1965 and the demand for steel gained strength too late in the first quarter to have much influence on our results for the period," Veeder said. "However, our customers have been ordering very heavily for deliveries in the second quarter of 1966. We expect to operate at a high level during the next several months."

35-Cent Dividend

The directors declared the second quarter cash dividend of 35 cents per share on the common stock, payable June 15 to stockholders of record May 26.

Granite City Steel's net sales for the first quarter this year were $37,326,000 compared with $47,157,000 in the first quarter of 1965. The company produced 339,000 tons of ingot steel and shipped 265,000 tons of flat rolled steel products in the first quarter of 1966 as compared with 1965 first quarter production of 406,000 tons of ingot steel and shipments, including semi-finished products of 344,000 tons.

"Our production volume was much lower in the first quarter this year and operating costs were higher," Veeder said. "The labor contracts covering our production and maintenance employees which were agreed on in 1965 did not affect the first quarter that year but added substantially to our employment costs in the first quarter of 1966.

"Raw material costs were higher because one of our two blast furnaces, taken down for relining and improvement last year, did not return to full production until late in the first quarter. Material and supply costs in general are somewhat higher than a year earlier."

Legionnaires Attend State Board Meeting

Elroy Ostendorf of Waterloo, 22nd district commander, American Legion, and Senior Vice-Commander Harold Summers of Granite City and past Commander Joseph Summers of Tri-City Post 113, returned this week from Chicago where they attended a two-day meeting of the Illinois executive department board meeting at the Palmer House. The meeting was held Saturday and Sunday.

The program included a discussion on membership and division and district membership standings in the current campaign. Ostendorf presented a report on the 22nd district and told the meeting the district should reach 100% of its campaign goal by the end of this month.

Reports by various committee chairmen also were made, including a report on plans for Veterans Day at the State Fair and a report on the National Security Conference to be presented at the state convention in Chicago July 27-30.

The group attended a mental health program on Sunday. Several films were shown. Dr. Lewis Kushe, head of the Illinois Department of Mental Health, spoke on special needs.

New Subdivision, 1st in 50 Years, Opens in Madison

Development of the first new residential subdivision in Madison in the past 50 years is now under way with construction of three brick homes in the $17,500 class, it was announced today by Jerry Glik, of St. Louis, Madison realtor and developer of the project.

The subdivision plans call for construction of single-family residences and multiple unit dwellings on 58 lots along Kennedy drive between McCambridge and Washington avenues.

Glik said total construction cost will approximate $1 million dollars when all structures are completed. Homes will be built to suit purchasers.

Lots are available for purchase by persons who wish to build their own homes. Two and three bedroom homes will be constructed. All will be of brick. Glik said plans call for construction of several two and four-room multiple dwelling units.

The development is to include installation of all sewer lines and construction of streets and sidewalks throughout the subdivision.

avenue from the city hall. The proposal was voted down.

Alderman Whitmer commented Monday night that the council "threw a lot of curved balls" in rejecting the contract with the local firm.

Research, Planning & Design is to establish an office on the third floor of the city hall, and the engineer is to be available during morning hours and by appointment.

In other action Monday night, the council approved the selection by Mayor Partney of four men to serve with a council committee in development of a "quiet park" at the site of the old cemeteries in east Granite.

Named were—William Jenkins, former assistant city inspector; Randall Robertson, local attorney; A. E. Aichel, local businessman and civic leader, and David Morgan, executive director of the Granite City Housing Authority. The council committee members are Alderman Parmley, chairman, and Aldermen Nonn and Johnson.

Full cooperation by the city in the Tri-City Chamber of Commerce's community-wide clean-up campaign was approved at the request of Alderman Sternberg.

The campaign is to start May 8 and continue for two weeks. Sternberg said the city can "beg, borrow or steal" a street flusher, and that plans are for a widespread clean-up of all debris. He asked that the street department "go all out" to clean alleys.

A. O. Smith Scholarship Goes To Local Worker's Daughter

The children of four A. O. Smith Corp. employees — one of them the daughter of a local plant foreman — have been named winners in this year's nationwide competition for company sponsored, four-year National Merit Scholarships. N. R. Brink, manager of the local plant presented the award here.

The area winner is Victoria J. Theodorakis, 17, whose father, George, is a general foreman at the local automobile frame plant. The family lives in Hazelwood, Mo., and Victoria is a senior at Hazelwood high school.

The other three merit scholars are: Janet C. Bein of Milwaukee, Wisc., Michael H. Fleming of Menomonee Falls, Wisc., and Charles M. Hammill of Los Angeles, Calif.

The four new Merit Scholars increase to 18 the number of children of A. O. Smith employes to receive the scholarships since the company began participating in the national program in 1960. This also marks the second time A. O. Smith has sponsored four scholarships in a year.

Selection of Merit Scholars is based on test results, high school grades, accomplishments outside the classroom, extracurricular activities, school endorsement and personal characteristics. The tests are administered nationally to about 800,000 seniors in more than 17,500 high schools.

Miss Theodorakis plans to study biology or take premdical courses at Washington University in St. Louis. She ranks fifth in her high school class of 659 pupils.

Howlett Urges

ers—for which there are no auditing requirements.

"Authorities familiar with financing believe, along with myself, that an audit of all local governments should be required —not just permitted. They believe also that a closer watch should be kept on local governments. For example, schools today spend a big part of the tax money, yet how many people attend a school board meeting . . . who attends a township meeting?"

Watched Closer

He said the state of Illinois "has been watched much closer since the Hodge scandal, yet in 1964 the total expenditure for Illinois government was only $53 for every $1000 of personal income, the second lowest expenditure among the 50 states. The only state with a lower figure was New Jersey. Illinois is a low tax state and a high income state.

"The taxpayer cannot afford to be inefficient," the auditor added, "and he cannot afford to pay for inefficient government. Anything we can do to reduce waste in government expenditure, at any level, conserves the taxpayers energy for our American way of doing things."

As for his own office, Howlett pointed out, "My office is now audited regularly on a surprise basis, the same as every other state office. The audit does not interfere with my operation. It is a protection for me."

Government, he pointed out, belongs to the people. "We believe that the people run the government. The Communists believe that the government runs the people."

Approximately 35 members of the Rotary Club attended the luncheon session.

of the area . . . with this information the state, the counties and the local municipalities could better determine their needs and plan sufficiently far ahead to insure adequate park and recreation facilities."

The report lists five park districts in the Bi-county area, two in Madison and three in St. Clair counties. In Madison it lists the Granite City park district and the Roxana park districts, but does not mention the Venice park district.

Only three state parks and two state memorials exist in Madison and St. Clair counties, according to the report. These are Cahokia Mounds State park, an area of 224 acres; Grand Marais park in St. Clair county, an area of 1125 acres and Lewis & Clark Memorial Park of four acres. The two state memorials include the Governor Coles State memorial which consists only of a stone monument between Edwardsville and the Southern Illinois University Southwestern Campus and the Cahokia courthouse memorial in Cahokia.

The report sets out there are 57 municipal parks in Madison county with a total of 1077 acres and 54 municipal parks in St. Clair county with a total of 662 acres.

Other Facilities

In addition, the community facilities report details available utility services throughout the area, including water service facilities, natural gas supplies, electric utilities, telephone facilities, sewage facilities and refuse disposal.

In 1963, according to the report, Madison county had hospital facilities of 3.19 beds per 1000 persons and St. Clair county had similar facilities of 4.18 beds per 1000 persons. The two counties rank second and third in the entire two-state metropolitan area, outranked only by the city of St. Louis with 5.26 beds per 1000.

"Although Madison county has one more hospital than St. Clair county, the hospitals of St. Clair county have 224 average number of beds more than Madison county, and it appears that St. Clair county hospitals with an occupancy ratio of 76.6%, are utilized more than those in Madison county where the occupancy ratio is 75.9%," the report states.

To Increase Beds

The present number of beds available for the two-county area is 2052 with 273 planned for addition by 1970, according to the report. This is an increase of 13.3% and will bring overall estimated occupancy to a 76.1% level.

The report recommends that a study should be made to ascertain the feasibility of establishment of more beds for the chronically ill in the two-county area. These beds should be added to the existing hospitals in order to economically utilize the existing expensive laboratory and x-ray facilities. Encouragement on expansion of this nature, the report says, is provided through the recent Medicare legislation which offers financial help to hospitals with chronic beds.

A study also should be made, the report urges, to examine the demands on psychiatric facilities and recommend a method to meet these demands. One possible suggestion in the study survey was the establishment of a state-supported, community-centered mental health clinic similar to the one located in North Chicago.

Jaycees' Miss GC Pageant Scheduled for June 25

Granite City Jaycee President James Burton announced last night the appointment of Darrell Crews as general chairman for the 1966 Miss Granite City Pageant. This year's beauty-talent extravaganza is scheduled for June 25, with entries now being accepted by the local service club.

In announcing the contest date during the Jaycees monthly dinner meeting, Burton stressed that having a successful Miss Illinois contestant last year, does not mean another girl from the same community could not be selected as the 1966 state titleholder. He pointed out that contestants from Aurora were chosen as Miss Illinois winners in consecutive years. Miss Kathy Orol won the state crown last year.

Others appointed to assist Crews are Edward Gonwa and Dr. E. L. Strotheide, entries co-chairmen; Ronald Pennell, production; Earl Dotzauer, publicity; Donald Cave, judging; Dan McGee, official Miss America program; John Krekovich, budget and finance; and David Walker, ticket promotion.

Those interested in entering the 1966 contest may call the entry chairmen at TR 6-1743 or TR 6-1254, for additional information, Burton said.

Other events announced at last night's meeting, include a general planning session next Wednesday evening at the Tri Mor Bowl for those arranging the annual homecoming celebration and the Illinois Junior Sports Jamboree, both to be hosted by the Granite City club.

Two GC Athletes in Spring Football Drills

Two former GCHS Warriors, now attending Big Ten universities on football scholarships, began spring football practice last week at their respective schools. They are Jerry Lne, a freshman candidate at the University of Illinois, and John Evenden, freshman prospect with the University of Iowa Hawkeyes at Iowa City, Ia.

Line, a 6'4" 220-pound tackle, and Evenden, 6'3½", 250-pound tackle-center, played with the Warriors' 1964 squad.

Both athletes were named to various prep all-star teams and participated in other high school sports. The Illini prospect won high school letters in track, while Evenden was a member of the GCHS 1965 state champion wrestling squad.

Under NCAA rules, both Illinois and Iowa are permitted 20 practice drills over a 30-day period. Each school has scheduled an intra-squad game for May 14, when offense meets defense in an annual spring contest.

It's always open season in the game of buck-passing.

There's nothing wrong with the dreamer who hustles after the alarm clock rings.

Dinner to Mark Illini Career of Don Freeman

Don Freeman's completion of his illustrious basketball career at the University of Illinois has led to still another event which his legion of Quad-City fans will long remember. He will be honored at a testimonal dinner Saturday night at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn.

Attendance at the 7:30 p.m. affair is limited to 175, with tickets available from Vasil Graville, 1616 Sixth street, Madison, the superintendent of schools' office 1707 Fourth street, Madison or from Emil Toffant, 1534 Fourth street, Madison, at $5 each.

Guest speaker will be Larry Stewart, station manager of WDWS, Champaign, who has been broadcasting Illini football and basketball for 20 years and thus is thoroughly familiar with the Madison basketball star's exploits at the university.

Combes to Attend

Also on hand, in what is expected to be a large gathering of sports notables, will be Freeman's basketball coach during his Illini career, Harry Combes.

Attending with Combes will be several of his assistant coaches and members of the university basketball squad who played with Freeman as he established three Illini scoring records.

Mike Graville, Don's basketball teammate during both his high school days and his college career, will be among those attending the April 23 dinner.

The dinner is one of many tributes that have been paid the basketball great by local fans. On March 3, during halftime of the Illini-Iowa game, about 400 fans from Madison presented him with a commemorative plaque. The same day had seen Gov. Otto Kerner proclaim March 5 as "Don Freeman Day" throughout the state of Illinois.

U. of Illinois Captain

The captain of the 1965-66 Illini cage squad was commended for his dedication to sports, personal achievement and contributions to his home town of Madison during festivities at the Champaign special day. Two nights later, he played his final game, chalking up his third Illini scoring record and narrowly missing a fourth.

Graduating this spring, Freeman holds the record for the most points scored in a Big Ten season with a mark of 385, well beyond the previous high total of 362, a record set in 1954 by John "Red" Kerr.

Freeman's other records, set a few days earlier, were for the most points scored during a season with a total of 632, and most points scored during a career, 1423.

Close to Fourth Record

Only eight points separated him from still another record. This was for points scored during a Big Ten career. Freeman finished second behind Kerr, who still holds this record with 880 points.

Don, certain of interest from pro basketball clubs, has evidenced a degree of indecision about turning professional due to knee problems, his relatively short height and other career plans.

The basketball great, voted to the All-Big Ten first team this season, was coached at Madison by Earl McClanahan and is the source of eternal pride for Mrs. Raleigh Freeman. Her husband died during their son's junior year at Champaign.

Whitworth New President Of Warriors' Boosters

Lloyd Whitworth, a local real estate agent, was named president of the Boosters of the Fighting Warriors at the club's annual election meeting Monday evening at the YMCA. Those attending also heard a review of the Warrior's current tennis prospects, presented by Coach Dick Harmon.

Elected to serve with Whitworth for 1966-67, are: Willis Shepard, first vice-president; Roger Bowler, second vice-president; Mrs. Hazel Rollins, secretary; Richard Polley, treasurer; Mrs. Marie Polley, assistant treasurer; and Tony Melichar, membership chairman. Appointment of a new board of directors and other committee chairmen will be made by the new club executive at a later meeting.

Retiring Booster president Emerald Daw expressed his appreciation to club members and Granite City high school coaches and school administrators for their cooperation during the past year.

The 300-member club, organized in 1963, supports all phases of the athletic program at the local high school. Through various benefit organization provides funds to film football and basketball contests. Later, the movies are used by the coaching staff as training aids and to assist in acquiring college scholarships for prep athletes.

Boosters have purchased blazers for use of high school varsity team members and also sponsored bus excursions to distant away-games, among other projects. Presently, the group is involved in preliminary planning stages for a possible new high school stadium.

Coach Harmon, whose Warrior netmen have compiled a 5-1 Southwestern Illinois Conference record this season, reported the local team now in a three-way tie for first place with Belleville and Edwardsville. Harmon described last weekend's successful trip to northern Illinois, when the GCHS players defeated Champaign Maroon's 6-3 and Rantoul Eagles 8-1.

Hearts at Home Sunday, Other Teams to Travel

Hearts-Liberty Home will be looking for a repeat of its opening-day winning combination when it inaugurates its home season in the Southwestern Illinois Inter-City Baseball League at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Visiting Ed Opich's Hearts at Wilson Park will be the Pocahontas Braves, looking for a winning combination of their own. Pocahontas is currently occupying the Blue Division cellar after a 21-3 drubbing by the East St. Louis Polish-American War Veterans.

The Hearts, tied with the War Veterans atop the Red Division standings, rallied to win 2-1 at Maryville in its first 1966 game.

New attempts to get a game under their belts will be made Sunday afternoon by the other two Quad-City league entries. Mitchell Athletic Club managed by James Corey, and Mercer Funeral Home, managed by Don Crabtree. Both had home games postponed Sunday due to wet playing fields at Wilson Park and behind Mitchell grade school. Both Mitchell and Mercer are Blue Division members.

At East St. Louis, Maryville

Mitchell will visit the strong Polish-American War veterans at Jones Park Diamond No. 1 in East St. Louis, while Mercer will play the Red Sox in Maryville, hoping for as good a performance as Sacred Heart enjoyed. Maryville is the only Inter-City team scheduled to play on its home diamond on both of the first two Sundays of the campaign.

The other league leader, Harper Realty of East St. Louis, a Blue Division team, defeated Collinsville 6-4 in its initial outing and is scheduled to visit the Troy Red Birds Sunday.

The fifth Inter-City game will send East Alton to play Molitor Motors at Fletcher Field in Collinsville.

Alton Runs Away with Triangular Meet at GC

Alton, defending state champion of two years ago and third in the state last year, proved too much for Granite City and Cahokia in a triangular meet on the Warriors' track Tuesday as the Redbirds racked up 100 points, taking all but three events.

James Wyatt, with an outstanding time of 19.7 in fast-paced 180-yard low hurdles, and Avery Wallace, soaring 21' 10½" in the long jump, were two of Alton's standout performers.

Granite City took the pole vault, high jump and mile run, where Jim Stephens upset Alton's strong miler. The Warriors were nosed out by one-tenth of a second in the mile relay event.

Coach Jim Morrison is more confident about the Mattoon relays Saturday, which will find Granite City sending 26 athletes.

"This meet is large in the amount of competition," Morrison said, "with 12 schools running in our class A level. We'll also be going up against teams from mid-state Illinois and there are some good schools in that area."

Preliminaries get under way in Mattoon at 10 a.m. Saturday and the finals commence at 2 p.m. Several carloads of Granite Cityans are planning to attend the meet, in which 205 trophies will be awarded.

YMCA Expanding Soccer Program; Scholarship Opportunities Rising

With more and more high schools adding soccer to their sports programs, and with the number of college soccer scholarships increasing, fans of the historic and rugged sport were never more enthusiastic.

Ruben Mendoza, in charge of the YMCA soccer program in Granite City, feels that one thing that has slowed up the acceptance of soccer in the midwest has been a lack of understanding of the sport and contact with it.

"This is one of the reasons we hold these showings of famous soccer games," Mendoza explained in commenting on the film program scheduled every year by the YMCA. "If more people become exposed to soccer and learn something about it the game could become as popular in this country as it is abroad," he said.

Soccer Film Friday

The YMCA is holding a film showing at 6:30 p.m. Friday in the gym. Tickets are priced at 50 cents each, and proceeds will go toward the organization's planned expansion of its soccer facilities and for support of the program generally.

The film being shown Friday evening will feature the European Cup Final match between the Real Madrid team of Spain and the Eintracht squad of Frankfurt, West Germany. Over 150,000 people paid to watch the contest, which features many of the greatest soccer players in the world.

Mendoza, who commented that over 200 people attended a film showing last year featuring a world championship match in Chile, anticipates a larger crowd this year. Larger facilities have been set up, using the gym rather than the auditorium.

New Playing Fields

Uppermost in the plans for enlarging the YMCA soccer program in the Quad-Cities is the construction of three playing fields at St. Elizabeth school, where work has already commenced.

"We plan to build a fence along Pontoon road as soon as we get the fields in shape," Mendoza said, "and later we want to erect lights so that we can play later in the evening and at night."

The soccer program is actually a seven months-a-year activity with two seasons. One extends from late March to the end of May and the other runs from September into November.

"It's one of the most inexpensive sports for schools and organizations to get into," Mendoza explained, commenting that teams currently involved in the YMCA program are outfitted for about $125 a team, including the cost of two soccer balls.

Few Injuries

The "Y" also has a low-cost insurance program which covers each player. But the injury factor has been almost negligible, Mendoza explained. "In over four years of soccer," he said, "we've never had a serious injury."

Pairing of competing teams as to age groups and the thoroughness of supervision and coaching also contribute to the relative safety of such a rugged sport. In contrast to football, only one set of pads is worn by soccer players, a set of shin pads worn under the heavy, knee-length socks.

The age group breakdown of the YMCA teams begin with the Pee Wees (7-8) and includes Atoms (8-9), Bantams (10-11), Midgets (12-13) and Juveniles (14-15).

Currently, the "Y" squads are employing 11 players in the games, with five reserves carried on the rosters of teams in the program.

Field Dimensions

Even the playing fields are tailored to the age brackets. The Pee Wees and Atoms compete on a field 84 by 64 yards. The Bantams, Midgets and Juveniles play on a field 96 by 70 yards.

Many of the players being developed by the YMCA program now can look forward to continuing their participation in soccer and possibly to college scholarships.

Ten boys from this metropolitan area received scholarships from Michigan State last year; if more high schools add soccer to their programs, the sport will become another major avenue for academic careers.

Coolidge Tennis Team Narrowly Edges Ferguson

The Coolidge junior high net team surmounted strong winds and equally strong court competition in edging out Ferguson junior high on the Ferguson courts Tuesday, 3-2.

Coolidge's Keith Nagy typified the strong play of his teammates in the deciding match when, after being down 5-4 at set point, he rallied in the last set of the 34-game duel to oust his Ferguson opponent 7-5.

John VanBuskirk outpointed Tom Fluri 6-3, 6-4, while Bob Green lost to Nick Giordano 6-2, 0-6, 1-6 before Nagy staged his rally to nose out Bill Small 8-6, 2-6, 7-5.

Jim Carlisle and Mike Loftus defeated Ed Pauley and Randy Doemann 6-1, 6-3 in the first doubles while Larry Knox and David Johns went down before Rick Gilda and Larry Tippet 1-6, 4-6 to leave the Coolidge netters with a 2-0 overall mark thus far in the season.

All-American Don McIntosh At 'Y' Class

Don McIntosh, all-American college swimmer in 1965-66 and newly named as coach of the Webster Groves, Mo., swimming team, will be the featured instructor in a two-hour lecture and demonstration program at the YMCA beginning May 1 and running for six consecutive Sundays.

The classes, covering competitive swimming techniques, freestyle, breaststroke, butterfly, backstroke and competitive attitude and conditioning, will cost $7 for "Y" members and $9 for non-YMCA members and will start at 1 p.m.

Registration for the classes, which give children a head start on the summer swimming season as well as vital instruction in competitive swimming, will end April 27.

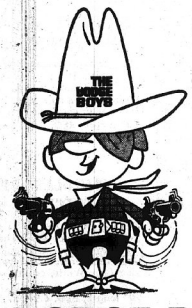

The special instruction is another facet of the varied swimming program at the YMCA.

Fred McCollegan is coach and Bill Lierman assistant coach of the Swamp Angels girls' team that gave Granite City its first state winners in the state YMCA meet at Riverside, Ill., last weekend.

Amsted Earnings Up 32%; Board Increases Dividend

Amsted Industries reported its earnings increased 32% in the three months ended March 31 from the same period a year ago on a sales increase of 12%. The board, meeting in Chicago Tuesday, also declared a 55-cent quarterly dividend, up five cents.

Net income amounted to $3,406,000, or $1.25 per share, up from $2,585,000, of .93 cents per share, in the same quarter last year. Sales increased to $47,865,000 from $42,096,000.

Earnings in the six months ended March 31, 1966, were the highest for any first half-year period in the company's history. Net income amounted to $6,003,000, equal to $2.19 per share, compared with $5,658,000, or $2.04 per share, in the first half of the 1965 fiscal year. Six months sales, also a record for the period, totaled $93,092,000 compared with $88,056,000 a year ago.

Joseph B. Lanterman, president, said, "The record results were primarily attributable to increased sales of railroad products as a result of the high level of freight car building and reduced federal taxes on income."

Amsted's local plant is American Steel Foundries which produces railroad equipment.

The Amsted president said that incoming orders are currently at a very high level. "As results in the last half of the fiscal year are expected to exceed those of the first half, it appears that earnings in 1966 will exceed the all-time high attained in 1965," he said.

The company's expenditures for the entire 1966 fiscal year should approximate $7,500,000.

GC Marine Eddie Hinson, Wounded in Vietnam

An official telegram from Washington, D. C., which notified a local couple this week that their Marine Corps son had been wounded in action in Vietnam, further emphasized the alarm and anxiety felt by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mayfield, 2840 Fortune drive.

A second wire clarified that his wounds were those suffered one month earlier, about which they had learned from the youth himself.

The 19-year-old Marine, Lance Corporal Eddie Joe Hinson, a veteran of 12-month duty in Vietnam, had informed his parents by letter April 1 that he had received shrapnel wounds in his right arm and left hand from enemy mortar fire while in the vicinity of DaNang. He said he had been treated in the field by corpsmen and had since returned to active duty.

MARINE L/CPL EDDIE J. HINSON, who suffered shrapnel wounds March 18 while manning a defensive position near DaNang, Vietnam. He has since returned to active duty with his weapons platoon.

The wire from Gen. Wallace M. Greene jr., USMC commandant, received by the family Monday, stated "L/Cpl. Hinson's condition and prognosis are excellent and he has since joined his unit."

A 1964 graduate of Granite City high school, Hinson enlisted in the Marine Corps in October 1964. Trained as a rocket-missile specialist, he has since been attached to a weapons platoon with the Second Battalion, Ninth Marines. Hinson is apparently none the worse for his injuries, as his most recent letter home urges his mother to send him a German chocolate cake.

In the letter, dated April 9, Hinson says, "Well, this morning is kind of peaceful. Jay Allen, the artillery radio operator and forward observer and myself are sitting here smoking a cigaret and having a hot coke. Third Platoon just brought in some VC prisoners. Our Company has the best record in the Batallion for VC kills and captures."

The letter continues, "Mom, can you make a German chocolate cake and send it airmail? I was bragging about your cake and the fellows can't believe it's that good. I'd like to show them. So make it a big one and make it soon, please."

Hinson concludes by saying "The time for coming home is getting closer. I expect to be out of Vietnam between July 1 and 15. How about that?"

Mrs. Mayfield told the Press-Record the cake will be sent just as soon as possible. She expressed the family's relief that the wire related to her son's wound, incurred March 18, and not to some additional injury which was first believed.

No Loss as Building On State St. Burns

Dense smoke about 3:15 p.m. alarmed a large number of Quad-Cityans Monday when sparks from a cutting torch set fire to the old elevated coal bunker structure being razed at the Tri-City Industrial park in the 1500 block of State street, formerly Hilker Supply Co.

Firemen from the main and West Granite stations answered the alarm and were at the scene several hours to control the blaze. No loss estimate was given since the structure was being wrecked.

The firefighters doused the flames and also nearby buildings where sparks were falling, and when one wall of the old structure collapsed, Fire Chief Earl Fronabarger suffered minor scratches and a ripped shirt as he went over a fence to avoid the debris.

Several hundred persons were attracted to the scene by the smoke of flames from the wood and tarpaper structures.

People, Enthusiasm Key to Fine City--U.S. Chamber Head

American cities undergoing improvements are being rebuilt not by great "planners and masterminds" but by the enthusiasms of the local people, Robert P. Gerholz, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, told area C. of C. members Tuesday night in Collinsville.

President Carl E. Mathias headed a delegation attending from the Tri-Cities Chamber.

"In the community that is moving rapidly ahead you will find unity among the business leaders and cooperation among them and local government officials," Gerholz pointed out. "You will find the people supporting the leaders, approving the necessary bond issues and sharing in the sense of local pride and achievement.

"Business leaders should understand, if they don't already, that community spirit works wonders and that it can be developed anywhere. If it is not now a constructive force in your town, it is capable of being aroused. It will have to be, in fact, if you want a really good community. We cannot have a Great Society without great people.

He said united, strong and purposeful leadership confers with "all kinds of local groups, explains the purposes and benefits of projects, listens to suggestions, answers questions, gets agreements on priorities and then moves ahead with community-wide backing.

"Once community spirit takes hold, it grows naturally. But, of course, it needs direction.

New Style Communities

Gerholz said the new style community is "people combining their resources to take better advantage of the increase in knowledge and teaching methods; of new ideas in transportation and in shopping and parking conveniences."

"It's people providing themselves with more facilities for recreation and for their cultural pursuits, so they can enjoy their increasing leisure time.

"The community is becoming more than a place to live, more than an environment," he said. "It's an entire mode of living."

Protestant Welfare Gives Aid to 43 Local Families

During March, 43 cases, involving 164 persons were assisted by Protestant Welfare a United Fund agency. The cases include 14 recurrent, and 27 incidental, and $533 was expended. Of this amount $313 was for food; $160 rent; $7 medical; and $53 for new shoes and clothing.

In addition 52 orders were given from the store room with a value of approximately $529.

The report was given by Mrs. Marie Whittle, office secretary, at a meeting Tuesday evening at Trinity Methodist Church. Devotions were given by Rev. Clair Clark of the host church and Roy Lynn, president, presided over the meeting.

Other reports were given by Protestant Welfare officers. T. W. Kelso reported on referrals and Dr. E. H. Theis announced the June meeting would be held at Suburban Baptist Church.

Mrs. Whittle was commended by Rev. Clark for her work in the welfare office, and Lynn reported on the county poverty program.

A banquet will be held May 17 at Nameoki Methodist Church, reservations for which can be secured from Charles Reimers or at the Protestant Welfare office. The banquet speaker will be a member of the executive staff of a St. Louis newspaper.

After the closing prayer, refreshments were served by the women of the host church.

1st Pay Proposed For 2 Officers of Pontoon Village

The first regular fees for village officials are to be considered by Pontoon Beach trustees at a meeting next Thursday evening.

The proposal was made last night by Village President Thomas Staicoff during a special meeting of the board called to accept a sewage treatment lagoon and sewer system for the Quiet Valley subdivision. A monthly sewer rental fee of $2.50 was set for each user of the sewer system.

Staicoff said no decision has been made on the regular fees to be paid to Village Clerk Edison Phelps and to Clarence Hudgens, building inspector. "That will be up to the board next week," Staicoff said.

The president recommended the trustees consider the fees to the officers; since Phelps will be responsible for sending out the bills each month and for collecting the rent. Hudgens will be assigned the job of maintaining the lagoon and lift station.

Village Leasing Lagoon

The sewer system and lagoon, valued at $73,050, were built by Cooper Homes, Inc., (Dale Development Co.) and turned over to the village last night. In accepting the agreement, the trustees agreed to maintain the system and to pay the taxes on the lagoon site, a 3.1-acre tract, leased from Theodore Kaseberg.

The lease cost will be $25 a month when the sewer system begins serving 40 homes in the Quiet Valley subdivision. Currently, 20 homes are connected onto the lines, and the first development calls for 39 homes.

Eventually, 170 homes are planned for the subdivision which lies east of Route 111. The lagoon is designed to handle about 190 houses, Staicoff said.

When questioned by Trustee Robert Springer, who opposed the program, Staicoff said the $2.50 monthly fee will be charged only to householders served by the system. He noted that the Quiet Valley subdivision is across the highway from the main area of the village.

Hope for Revenue

Springer asked if the other residents of the village would be taxed if the system should breakdown. Staicoff replied that all costs would be borne from a special village account set up for the sewer system. He added that it is hoped any surplus funds could be used for general purposes.

Actions by the board at the special meeting included adoption of a resolution authorizing Staicoff and Phelps to sign an agreement with A. R. Cooper of Cooper Homes to take over the sewer system, approval of the agreement and passage of an ordinance establishing the $2.50 monthly sewer fee.

Clerk Phelps is to administer the sewage fund and is to open a special account at the First Granite City National Bank. He will send out the monthly bills which are to be paid at his home.

Delinquent Bills

If a bill is not paid by the 15th day of a month, a 25-cent delayed payment charge will be added. If a bill is not paid in 30 days, it will become delinquent and a lien filed against the property. Service can be cut off if a bill is not paid in 90 days.

No date was set for the first billing, but Phelps and Staicoff said the bills would go out either in May or by June 1.

Staicoff pointed out the sewer system was being given to the village without cost and should provide a source of income. The village is to pay only the taxes or a $25 a month lease fee for the lagoon and maintenance and operating costs.

The system includes the lagoon, a pump station and the sewer trunk line along Marigold avenue. The developer is to install any additional trunk lines and connections.

In advance of the acceptance of the system, Staicoff read a letter from the state Sanitory Water Board that the system meets its specifications.

Trustees voting for acceptance of the sewage system last night were Otto Kreher, Richard Jones, Anthony Jackson, Lawrence Ensor and Donald McNew.

GC May Seek State Law To Halt Costly Injury Suits

Settlement of a $100,000 injury suit for $4000 followed by three notices of intent to file injury suits against the city caused concern among Granite City council members Monday night.

A motion was approved for City Atty. Allen to secure a copy of the Missouri law which prevents such suits from being filed against a municipality. Alderman Bartosiak pointed out the city could be hit with a $50,000 to $100,000 suit or perhaps several suits that could clean out the treasury.

In some states, the responsibility for sidewalks rests with the property owner, and he is subject to being sued if there is a fall and an injury.

Total This Year

Prior to the $4000 payment, judgments against the city in the past 11 months amounted to $8090.

Through the Missouri law, the city hopes to get a clue and then call upon the state legislature to adopt a similar law for Illinois municipalities.

The settlement, totaling $4035, was paid to Mrs. Lenita Carlisle, who was injured in July 1964 when a motorcycle spilled in the 1400 block of Madison avenue. It was being operated by her husband, Donald, and she was a passenger. The old trolley tracks, which have since been removed, were blamed for the mishap. The settlement was recommended to the council by Leo Konzen, assistant city attorney.

Missing Stop Sign

A stop sign that is believed to have fallen down was blamed for a traffic crash at 19th and Adams streets last Dec. 26, resulting in two of the notices of intent to file injury suits against the city.

Alderman Rutledge, chairman of the Finance committee, commented that if this practice continues, the city council might as well disband and just turn the city tax money over to persons suing the city.

City Atty. Allen was instructed to look into the matter. The notices were filed by Louis Smith and Ernestine Smith, both of 2205 Cardinal avenue.

The third notice was filed by Elsie Unger, 2824 Fortune drive, who said she was injured in a fall on defective curbing on the east side of the 1900 block of Edison avenue where she was boarding a bus.

Chester L. Baker To Undergo Surgery

C. L. Baker president of Tri-City Printing Co., who has been undergoing treatment for pneumonia and a series of tests for the last two weeks at St. Elizabeth Hospital, will be taken Saturday to St. Mary's Hospital in St. Louis for surgery on Monday.

X-rays and a spinal test this week disclosed that a ruptured disc is the cause of severe pains in his left arm and numbness to two fingers. The tests were delayed until he was recovered from pneumonia.

Baker, who resides at 2910 Yale avenue, is president of Illinois Metro-East, a voluntary industrial development organization, and a past president of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce.

Supervisors Beat Effort To Revive Liquor Law

Another effort to obtain passage of the county liquor control ordinance drawn last fall and tabled by the county board of supervisors a month ago was beaten by a 27 to 19 roll call vote Wednesday in a move that would have required a two-third board vote just to revive the issue for discussion.

Members of the board were forced into a vote on the issue by a motion put by Supervisor Robert Ford of Wood River to withdraw the bill from the table and place it on active status.

Ford maintained that a two-thirds vote to call the ordinance out of its tabled status was not necessary, but he was overruled by an opinion by State's Atty. Joseph Bartylak, who had drafted the ordinance.

Ford made his motion after two sets of petitions calling upon the county board to approve the ordinance as it originally was drafted, rather than wait for a new bill which now is being drawn by Bartylak, were filed as communications with the board in its regular meeting. One set of petitions was filed by a WCTU group of Alton and the other by a group of church leaders of Alton.

Ordinance Tabled

The ordinance was tabled after the Madison County Tavern Owners Association objected to certain points of the ordinance seriously damage their bususiness and contended its passage would operations.

The liquor control commissioner, Board Chairman Harold Landolt, Bartylak and members of the county board's license committee have held several meetings recently to discuss points of the new ordinance which Bartylak is expected to complete soon.

Several board members insisted during Wednesday's meeting that the board should wait until the new ordinance is completed before taking any action.

Ford, however, insisted that a vote be taken on his motion as an answer to the petitions that had been filed with the board. The 27 to 19 roll call vote resulted. Thirty "aye" votes would have been required to replace the issue before the board.

The board Wednesday also:

Approved a resolution for purchase of the Knights of Columbus building in Edwardsville, located across the street from the courthouse, to be used for certain county offices duue to overcrowded conditions in the courthouse. A purchase price of $22,000 was approved on recommendation of the courthouse committee which explained only a small amount of additional money will be needed to repair and renovate the building to meet county office needs.

To Replace Walks

Authorized the courthouse committee to negotiate with the city of Edwardsville for replacement of sidewalks around the courthouse, with the city to pay for the cost of the walks one one side of the building and the city and county to share the cost of the walks on the other three sides.

Granted permission to the road and bridge committee to take bids on bituminous materials, unit price bids on corrugated metal culvert pipe and quotations on seal coat aggregate for maintaining the county highways under motor fuel tax fund programs.

Authorized the courthouse committee to negotiate a contract for installation of a microfiling system in the office of Circuit Clerk Willard Portell. The committee reported that space for storing records is becoming a problem. A sum of $20,000 for installing the system and microfilming records has been set up for the current fiscal year.

gymnasium room and cafeteria at Madison high school. Bids were submitted by three contracting firms not only on construction cost, but also on the period of time required for construction.

$393,224 Low Bid

Supt. Brown said the school district hopes to obtain completion of the gymnasium and cafeteria for use at the opening of the fall school term in September, and is willing to wait for completion of the classrooms until the next school term.

Wolf submitted a base bid of $393,224, with four deductible items ranging from $533 on painting to $4866 for a covered passageway.

M. H. Wolfe & Co. submitted a base bid of $398,726 with four deductions ranging from $493 for glazed tile to $3942 for the passageway, and Nelson Construction Co. submitted a bid of $398,422, with four deductions ranging from $533 on painting to $4866 for the covered passageway.

List Completion Dates

Nelson guaranteed completion for the entire project in 270 calendar days, while M. H. Wolfe stipulated 400 calendar days for completion.

Leo Wolf offered completion in 300 calendar days, and a stipulation that the cafeteria and gymnasium would be completed in in 150 days if that phase of the project is worked first.

The bids were referred to Brown and the architect, Virgil H. Dulgeroff, for study and recommendations to the board for a contract award at a later date.

The Madison school district will finance the high school work from a bond issue voted by the public in December 1965.

Three-Year Bus Contract

The board also accepted a three-year student transporation contract proposed by the Bi-State Transit System for carrying pupils to and from school during 1966-67, 1967-68 and the 1968-69 years.

Board members discussed the proposal only briefly. They agreed that while the contract calls for an annual increase in bus transportation costs, it was the only "reasonable" bid available.

Bellcoff pointed out that gasoline and other bus operating costs are increasing steadily and that a binding three-year contract could be to the advantage of the school district.

The contract calls for payment of $103.80 per day during 1966-67; $105.10 per day during 1967-68; and $106.40 per day for the 1968-69 school year. The cost during 1965-66 is $102.36 per day.

Teacher Resigns

Resignation of Mrs. Sharon Sikora as business education teacher at Madison high school effective April 15 was accepted by the board, which authorized transfer of Lee E. Ashby, a high school teacher, to the business education teaching post vacated by Mrs. Sikora.

Board members also abided by recommendations from Brown to employ Janice Parizon, now kindergarten teacher, as fourth grade teacher at Louis Baer school for the 1966-67 school year; Mrs. Shirley Loy as half-time kindergarten teacher at Louis Baer school for 1966-67; and Robert E. Jenkins, now teaching at St. Charles, Mo., high school, as a mathematics-science teacher at Madison high school for 1966-67.

Recommendation by Brown that Miss Sheila Nicholas, who will graduate from college in June, be employed as art supervisor for the district, effective in August, was approved by the board. She will be employed immediately upon her graduation to begin preparation of an art program at all grade levels, Brown said.

Mrs. Anna Utley, 76, Dies of Heart Attack

Mrs. Anna Evelyn Utley, 76, of Jennings, Mo., the mother of Mrs. George A. (Burdine) Holtzscher, 53 Riviera drive, died yesterday after she collapsed following an apparent heart attack about 6 p.m. Tuesday as she was preparing to leave her home for the hospital.

Efforts by police, who were summoned to the house, failed to revive her and she was pronounced dead at St. Louis County Hospital. Mrs. Utley had complained of feeling ill for two or three days.

Earlier the same afternoon, Mrs. Holtzscher had visited her mother who resided with another daughter, Mrs. George W. (Louise) Perneus, in Jennings. A third daughter, who survives, is Mrs. L. J. (Melba) Stennan of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. Utley was born in Clay, Ky. Her husband, George Utley, preceded her in death in 1964. She also leaves 13 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow in St. Louis.

Police Capture GC Man In Collinsville Store

Jack R. McLean, 26, who gave an address of 2656 Center street, Granite City, was apprehended with an accomplice by Collinsville police early Tuesday morning while the pair was inside the Stiehl Drug store.

Police had surrounded the building and over a public address unit ordered the men to come out. A pry-bar, which had apparently been used to gain entry to the building, was found inside along with a hand drill and screwdriver.

The Collinsville police had received an anonymous phone call telling them lights were on in the building. Officers arrived at the scene shortly after entrance to the building had been made. Both men were placed under arrest and charged with burglary. The second man was identified as William Glidewell, 35, of the Chicago area. They were taken to the county jail at Edwardsville.

Groundbreaking Ceremony For Baptist Bldg. at SIU

Groundbreaking ceremonies for a new Baptist student center adjacent to the Southern Illinois University Carbondale campus were held Tuesday morning.

Presiding at the ceremonies the Rev. Lee Swope, interim secretary at the department of student ministries of the Illinois Baptist State Association, said the new building will provide housing facilities for 300 men and women students, auditorium, classrooms, chapel, library, conference rooms and office space.

citizen group Monday night in a letter to the city from Mrs. Juanita Barnes, president of organization. The mayor and council supported the movement.

The citizens' group was organized last month after a local mother and daughter were killed at the crossing in an auto-train crash. Women of the area have maintained daily vigils at the crossing with signs during the day and flares at night to caution motorists.

Several attempts have been made in recent years to get protective devices at the crossing, but railroads have contended the crossing is to be improved with the widening of Nameoki road and that the installation should not be carried out until that time.

The state plans to undertake the Nameoki road improvement within the next two years. The county began last week its paving project for Maryville road, but the crossing was not included becauuse of the state's plans.

MORE ABOUT

Expansion

Granite City to the same fate as St. Louis — complete encirclement preventing growth.

With Madison and Venice to the south and west and a proposed 9000-acre industrial park to the north, the ballooning of Pontoon Beach boundaries would effectively bar future eastward growth for Granite City.

And it would spread the thin village funds over a much larger area, bringing higher Pontoon taxes that could provide only a minimum of municipal services.

Why would political opponents make such a direct attack on Granite City?

A major "crime" is that it has been somewhat of a "loner," an area of many unregimented voters that could not be counted on to follow the "party line" on Madison county candidate endorsements. Also, it in general has followed purchasing and payroll policies that contrast with those of more politically oriented entities like the East Side Levee Board.

Stampeded Into Signing

In essence, the village annexation plan is that of residents of the affected area, situated east of the Alton & Southern railroad right-of-way.

However, some of those who signed the original petition have since signed an opposing petition, saying that exaggerated warnings of a "Granite City land grab" were used to get their signatures before they had time to consider all aspects of annexation by Pontoon.

Many of these are not sure they want to be a part of either Pontoon Beach or Granite City. They are aware now that they do not have to let themselves be stampeded into either action. But whether they are numerous enough to block immediate Pontoon annexation is unknown.

Thomas Staicoff, village president and Levee Board treasurer, is an admittedly enthusiastic supporter of village expansion. Other political figures, not necessarily involved in the plan, could not help but be affected by it.

Sewer Competition

Nameoki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs and John Gitchoff, Madison municipal and school attorney, were among the chief advocates of a township sanitary system that was defeated by voters last year. The village annexation may thwart proposed extension of a Granite City sanitary sewer line to new Grigsby junior high school on Pontoon road.

If the school is rural or part of Granite City, sewers can be provided. But if it is taken by the village, the school's sewer outlook is clouded.

A Pontoon Beach area resident and president of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission, Supervisor Briggs has close ties to Madison and the Levee Board, is an influential member of the County Board of Supervisors and is active in state legislative contacts. SWIMAPC and Nameoki township have indicated interest in helping meet sewer needs of the proposed new industrial park.

Madison officials have had close links for years with the Levee Board and frequently have been able also to play "kingmakers" in county political affairs. They have been instrumental in developing the Arlington subdivision in Nameoki township and have said publicly they object to considered annexing it to the city of Madison despite a separation of several miles.

The major Madison county political organization has for years maintained contact with various Granite City officials as part of attempts to present a "solid front" in county Democratic matters. The Levee Board payroll also has been a means of re-directing allegiance of elected officials at various times.

Unpleasant Council Image

City council factionalism has been one of the results, with heated debates creating an unpleasant public image of Granite City municipal government.

Smooth governmental unanimity elsewhere has sometimes masked rigid political discipline and less democratic procedures than those followed in Granite City. But the extreme nature of the council clashes has diverted attention from other municipalities.

Thus, the Granite City council is the heart of the problem — and of the solution if there is to be one.

When Pontoon residents voted 117-109 to incorporate as a village, one of the main reasons voiced was to avoid possible future association with "Granite City taxes" and "city hall politics."

Now that major expansion of the village is being proposed, aldermen continue to be pictured as the villain in the drama, lurking in the shadows awaiting any opportunity to gobble up unsuspecting rural areas against their will.

City Not Fighting Back

Actually, the council is divided and few aldermen have displayed concern about Pontoon Beach growth. No direct effort is being made by them to defend Granite City's fringe area interests.

Some aldermen are aware that the balanced tax base does make a certain amount of expansion both logical for Granite City and beneficial to the families who would receive increased services.

But, with the factionalism that exists, no clear majority voice has emerged on the subject of city growth.

Comments by two or three council members indicate that possible sealing off of Granite City does not worry them. They simply do not care enough to look into the matter and fight for their municipality's future.

Such concerns are not directly connected with the village expansion plan but are a part of the overall picture facing unincorporated area residents who may be called upon to vote on joining Pontoon Beach.

GSI Earnings $15,605,549 During 1st 1966 Quarter

Net sales of $15,605,549 during the three-months quarter ended March 31 were reported for General Steel Industries, Inc. today in a meeting of the board of directors in Granite City.

Earnings for the period were announced at $757,884, after taxes, equal to 33 cents per share.

W. Ashley Gray jr., president of GSI, said this compares with sales of $17,137,250 and earnings of $795,121, or 35 cents a share for the same period in 1965.

Directors also declared a second quarter dividend of 20 cents per share on common stock, payable June 30 to stockholders of record of June 17.

While GSI sales and earnings were somewhat slower in the first quarter this year, Gray pointed out that 1966 as a whole will be a better year than 1965. He said a backlog of unfilled orders as of March 31 was $74 million, compared with $65.4 million at the same time last year.

Income before taxes during this year's first quarter were $1,360,884, compared to $1,372,121 last year. Income taxes amounted to $603,000 for this year's first quarter, compared to $577,000 last year.

The figures include operation of Standard Pipeprotection, Inc., which was acquired by GSI last Dec. 1.

Bend Residents Ask Township Aid On Dog Problems

Demands that immediate action be taken by Nameoki township officials to reduce the increasing number of roaming dogs reportedly killing chickens, ducks, cats and smaller dogs in the Bend road area was urged by residents at the Nameoki town board meeting Monday evening.

Board members Herbert Polley and William Schreiber were appointed to meet with Town Atty. Nick Vasileff to clarify animal control status and explore costs and feasibility of constructing a township humane shelter.

Residents of the Bend road area complained that numerous telephone calls to the Madison county dog catcher, the sheriff's department, and township office have met with little or no response. Several indicated they were prepared to take protective measures themselves to control the situation. About 35 persons attending the meeting.

45 Chickens Killed

William Steinman, a Bend road resident, reported that he had 45 chickens killed by dogs, including 25 fowl in a single afternoon. He added, "the animals must have been starving, as they didn't even run when I appeared on the scene." He stressed to the board that hungry dogs, running in packs of ten to 15, also are dangerous to youngsters living in the area.

Most of the animals appear to be strays, Steinman said, explaining that some are left in that area by hunters, while other unwanted dogs are just dumped there by their owners.

Briggs Cautions Residents

Supervisor Harry Briggs cautioned the residents that individuals shooting the animals without proper authority could have serious repercussions. He agreed the problem could increase still further, "now the spring dumping season is here."

Briggs said an earlier animal shelter study showed a $14,000 cost to be prohibitive to construct any type of shelter meeting state requirements.

Briggs agreed to call a special meeting to further investigate all aspects of the problem after statutes have been clarified with the township attorney and new figures are available on estimated construction costs.

In answer to a question, Rodney Redmond, township rabies control officer, replied that his actions mostly are limited to responding to calls on animals suspected of being diseased. He added, even if stray dogs could be captured, the township has no facilities for detaining them for the period required by law.

Auditing Plans

In other business, Supervisor Briggs reported that three auditing firms, together with other companies, will be asked to submit proposals for conducting an audit of township funds and a managerial survey. The new auditing procedure, approved at the annual town meeting earlier this month, provides for an efficiency study of the present system of internal financial controls, accounting methods and reporting procedures.

William Gary and Mrs. Betty Ropac, members of the Committee for Economic Improvement of Nameoki Township, questioned legality of action by Dan McGrew of State Park Place, who will act as moderator at the April 15 town meeting, in selecting a second, five-man committee to report on the auditing survey. McGrew, present at Monday's meeting, said he had misunderstood a resolution which called for him to appoint the citizen's group.

At that time, the moderator had named Briggs, John Karlechik, Herbert Polley, Robert Strackeljahn and William Schreiber, all members of the town board, the supervising committee. He added that he was willing to appoint a second qualified group after learning of his error.

At this point, questions were asked on the legality of the appointments by a moderator elected to serve solely for the town meeting and what criteria McGrew would use to select the committee. A brief exchange between Gary and McGrew was terminated by Briggs, who said he would confer with the latter on appointments.

Duties of the five-man "watchdog" committee were outlined at the annual meeting, to be present when the audit of accounts is made; to cooperate and work with the town board to implement financial and managerial recommendations as produced by the audit survey; to inform and advise township citizens of the findings and conclusions; and to operate as a committee until the next annual meeting when a full report would be made.

Six Burglaries Occur in Area; Reward Offered

Burglaries at four homes and two business places—in which thieves obtained $95 in cash and $648 worth of loot—highlighted ten crimes reported to Quad-City authorities since Monday.

The victim of one burglary, Carl Peters, 3001 Fehling road, today offered a $50 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of burglars who entered his home yesterday and took collectors' items including $338 worth of blue seal U. S. currency and $20 in old-style half dollars.

The burglary, in which the house was completely ransacked, was discovered at 3:30 p.m. by Mrs. Virginia Peters, who said she had been gone since about 8:30 a.m.

Entry was gained by breaking a rear door glass. Also taken were five Indian head pennies and an assortment of Japanese and Mexican coins and currency.

Mrs. Peters said the intruders went through closets and dresser drawers in the seach for money.

Home Burglarized

A 17-year-old boy was held in Venice Wednesday and two others were being questioned in connection with the burglary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Petras, 1235 Klein street, Monday night. Entry was gained through a basement window.

Venice police reported the house was completely ransacked and jewelry valued at $170 was taken. Mrs. Petras told police the burglars stripped a pillow case from the bed, apparently to carry off the loot. A radio-clock also was taken.

Missing jewelry included a $65 charm bracelet, charms worth $20, a man's 1D bracelet worth $20 and a tie clasp and cuff links worth $20. A cigaret lighter valued at $20 also was among the loot.

Burglars smashed a rear door glass to enter the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Lesko, 2300 Iowa street, on Tuesday and undertook a thorough job of ransacking the house even to the basement. They carried off loot valued at over $120.

In a report to police Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Lesko listed as missing $50 in coins, two folders of dimes valued at $20, a $20 camera, a $20 electric razor and a radio worth $10. The departing thieves left doors open.

Hold Burglary Suspect

A Madison man was being held by Venice police this morning as a suspect in the burglary of the Madison Garrett tavern, 337 Weaver street, about 3:30 a.m. today.

Garrett told officers he returned to the tavern and found the front door had been broken open. A man inside the place fled through a rear door when he entered, Garrett said. He said he recognized the intruder who later was picked up by Madison police and turned over to the Venice police department.

Venice police said charges are expected to be filed later today.

Two business places in the 2600 block of Nameoki road were entered by burglars Monday night, and loot of $95 cash was taken from the cash register at Uncle Charlie's restaurant, 2610 Nameoki road.

Police said entrance during the night was gained through a side window that was open slightly for ventilation. The theft report was made Tuesday morning by Mrs. Lillian Ferratto, operator of the drive-in.

Also visited was the all-night Washbucket Launderette, 2600 Nameoki road. The intruder went into a washroom and broke through a wall to get into a supply room where soap is stored. Police believe the burglar was searching for money and found none. Nothing was taken.

The smashed wall was discovered at 6:30 a.m. Tuesday by Mrs. Ruth Wallis, attendant.

Jaycees to Conduct Survey On Jr. College Sentiments

Granite City Jaycees will conduct an informal survey Saturday to assist in determining public sentiment on the proposed formation of a Junior College District in Madison county and adjacent areas.

Plans for the initial survey were disclosed last night at the chapter's monthly dinner meeting at the Tri Mor Bowl. More than 70 attended the event, which was combined with a "ladies' night" program.

Jaycee members will be stationed at various locations throughout the community Saturday seeking the opinions of local residents on whether the informant approves establishment of a junior college district; their own schooling and job category; past participation in adult education programs, or, if the person would attend junior college level adult courses; family status and if they plan to send their own child to a college.

Those responding to the questions will not be required to give their names, James Burton, Jaycee president, said. He added that the survey will continue for an indefinite period until a required number of persons have been questioned.

In other action, members voted to purchase new baseball uniforms for members of the Jaycee-sponsored Nameoki Little League team; and agreed to donate 40 tickets for youngsters who attend the St. Louis Police Circus, under the auspices of Co-ordinated Youth Services.

William Herbst was honored as "Jaycee of the Month for March" in connection with his efforts as district bowling contest chairman, and Morris Miles and Jack Richey reported on plans for the chapter's annual "Radio Day" promotion.

Man Charged in Child Beating Case

An East St. Louis man faces an aggravated battery charge following his arrest Tuesday on a warrant filed by Mrs. Earline Kreisler, 5 Bradley lane, near Stallings, who told county authorities here four-year-old son, Michael, had been beaten.

Donald Compton, 39, an East St. Louis auto body repairman, declined to give a statement. His preliminary hearing was held yesterday in Edwardsville. He is bound over to the grand jury and released from the county jail on $500 bond.

Mrs. Kreisler, 22, an employee of the Oasis Supper Club at State Park, said Michael is suffering from a broken collar bone, a cut lip and other cuts and bruises. The boy told her he had been struck with the butt of a gun, choked, tripped and "banged against the wall." He was given emergency treatment at St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis.

Mrs. Kreisler said the incident occurred Saturday night after she asked Compton to take her two children to the home of an aunt in Washington Park so she could go to work. Late that night she was called at the club by Compton but was busy and had to hang up.

Later, at 1 a.m. Sunday, she called Compton to tell him she would be working overtime. She also talked to Michael and told the sheriff's deputies the boy sounded as if he had been asleep or crying.

When she arrived home about 2 a.m., Michael was standing on a chair and said Compton wouldn't let him get down. Two-year-old Shannon Kreisler was asleep on the divan and Compton also was asleep on the couch. She then clothed the children and took them to a relative's house. Michael was later taken to the hospital.

Boy, 2, Hit by Car On Lee Avenue

Little Richard Cureton, 2 was injured Tuesday afternoon as he dashed into the street in the 2200 block of Lee avenue and was struck by a southbound auto.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Cureton, 2208 Lee avenue, was given emergency treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital for multiple abrasions and contusions and for scalp cuts. He was transferred to St. Louis Children's Hospital.

A witness told police the boy ran into the street from between two parked cars and into the path of the southbound auto driven by Albert Delaloye, 56, of 2819½ Lincoln avenue. No charges were filed against the driver.

An Army recruiter, Sgt. Ernest Howard, 40, of Godfrey, was injured critically and two other persons, his wife, Alice, 46, and a Granite Cityan, Joseph Bradish, 50, of 2804 East 20th street, were injured about noon Tuesday in a two-car crash at Route 3 and Chain of Rocks road.

The intersection, marked with a four-way stop, is west of Mitchell.

Sgt. Howard suffered crushing chest injuries and cuts to his face and left arm in the collision after which his auto knocked down a stop sign and went 100 feet into a ditch.

The sergeant's wife is hospitalized here with a ruptured spleen. Her condition was described as fair. Bradish received facial scalp abrasions and a neck injury.

Bradish said he observed the northbound stop and was making a left turn. Sgt. Howard was traveling south.

Minor injuries were suffered Monday by William Davis, 18, of 1345 Meridian street, who was a passenger in an auto driven by Glen Ethington, 18, of 2037 Bryan avenue, involved in a collision at 22nd and Iowa streets. Police said Ethington was going south on Iowa, and the other car was being driven west on 22nd by Louis Holder, 2213 Lee avenue.

JERRY SOTOLA

Farm Research Stressed at 20th Annual Banquet

Scientific research is transforming farm administration, growing and breeding, Jerry Sotola, Chicago Livestock Exchange associate public relations director, said in giving the principal talk at last night's 20th annual Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce agriculture dinner.

Farm manpower needs are dwindling steadily and those who are active will need to be alert and soundly educated in order to compete, Sotola asserted.

"Little details affecting prices, costs and procedures no longer can be ignored, and you cannot carry records marked on the barn door into the income tax office," he said.

Reviewing long-range trends, he said "supermarkets and middlemen" have squeezed many farmers' profits to a minimum. Much of the talk included humorous anecdotes illustrating his points.

About 250 persons attended the dinner, presided over by Chamber President Carl E. Mathias and Chamber Agriculture Committee Chairman Otto H. Romann. The Ottwein vocal quartet entertained and Rev. Gail Cross of Nameoki Presbyterian Church offered prayers.

Thirty-nine business and industrial firms served as hosts to Quad-City area farmers for the smorgasbord meal in the Granite City high school cafeteria.

Madison to Pay GC $200 a Month For Use of Dump

Madison aldermen authorized Mayor Stephen Maeras Tuesday night to enter into a $200 monthly rental agreement with Granite City municipal officials for disposal of refuse at the landfill facility on Route 203.

Also by resolution, council members formally paid tribute to Illinois University basketball star Don Freeman of Madison. They approved two motor fuel tax appropriation requests for street improvements and authorized a mutual aid pact with other Madison county fire departments.

Commenting on the decision to seek permission to use the Granite City refuse disposal area, Mayor Maeras told the aldermen, "The measure will provide only stop-gap relief. I still believe our only answer is the three-community incinerator project currently under study." He added that the study is expected to take up to one year.

Maeras continued, "The air pollution regulations now being enforced should have been in effect many years ago. We have been as guilty as anyone else in operating a makeshift dumping facility. We hope enforcement of the new laws will eliminate the terrible eyesore the open dumps have created."

Fifth Ward Alderman Booker T. Walton, ordinance committee chairman, presented a resolution calling for a $17,000 appropriation of motor fuel tax funds for repairs and improvements on 12th street between Grand and Madison avenues.

Adopted by the council, the plan calls for full payment by owners of Schermer Bros. Supermarket. In an agreement with Avery Schermer, president, the firm will pay half on completion of the work and the remainder over a ten-year period.

Also adopted was a $30,500 MFT appropriation for maintenance of arterial streets in calendar year 1966. The mayor remarked that due to the number of street projects slated for Madison this year, the city's MFT account will be insufficient to immediately finance all the proposed improvements.

Saying he will personally deliver a copy of a resolution Saturday to Freeman when the Madison athlete is honored at a 7:30 p.m. testimonial dinner at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn, Maeras said, "Council members hope the document will convey to him the feeling of pride and respect in which he is held by all Madison citizens."

In other action, the council ratified the mutual aid pact through which its fire department agrees to cooperate in providing equipment and personnel when required by other communities. The new agreement, similar to previous pacts, provides for the assisting city to not file liability claims against the community sided.

The mayor announced that "Student Government Day" will be held Tuesday, May 3, with students from Madison high school taking over city offices for one day, starting at 8:30 a.m. The annual event will continue through the council meeting the same evening, the junior officeholders being seated with their official counterparts in a regular session.

Investigate get rich schemes before you invest — not after.

County EOC Seeks $86,600 Grant for Legal Aid Program

Madison County Economic Opportunity Commissioners approved Monady night a proposal to establish a legal aid program to provide counsel to indigent persons and to apply for an $86,600 federal grant to finance the project for the first 12 months.

If approved by the Regional Office of Economic Opportunity in Chicago, legal aid offices would be set up in the Quad-Cities, Alton and Edwardsville areas.

Maurice S. Harris, county EOC director, said yesterday, the commission must provide "in kind" services, amounting to $24,148, to be eligible for the federal funds. "In kind" contributions will consist of office space and equipment, additional secretarial and legal assistance from the Madison County Bar Association, co-sponsors of the proposed program.

Must Apply by May 1

The director pointed out the request for federal aid must be made prior to May 1, in order to draw the $86,600 from the current $412,000 fiscal appropriation allotted to Madison county. It expires June 30. A new fiscal appropriation is expected to be acquired after that date.

"Once the application is approved by the regional EOC office, we hope to get the program under way by July 1," Harris said. He added that approval at the state level should take ten days to two weeks after being filed.

The amount requested will provide for three full-time attorneys, one of whom will function as the program director, three secretaries, an investigator and a research assistant, the director explained.

The Legal Aid Service would be administered by a 15-member governing board, consisting of lawyers and representatives of the impoverished, civic, labor and business groups.

Legal advice and representation will be furnished in such matters as domestic relations, child care, consurger financing and tenant-landlord relations, the commission executive said.

Charged with Speeding

Show Cause Hearings Set For 2 Tavern Operators

Hearings for two county tavern operators to show cause why their licenses should not be suspended or revoked are set for next Thursday, and operators of seven other taverns are to appear today before Liquor Commissioner Harold Landolt at Edwardsville to be warned about late hour operations.

Sheriff Barney Fraundorf forwarded the hearing notices to the tavern operators on Tuesday and said they resulted from an early morning check on Saturday, March 19.

Charles Hester, operator of the Iuna Cafe at Mitchell, and Mrs. Hester G. Yates, proprietor of the Club Flame Steak House near Edwardsville, are to appear next Thursday for the show cause hearings.

The hearings were called as a result of reports submitted to the county liquor commission by the investigators, who said they witnessed the serving of drinks.

Today's "warning" session for operators of seven taverns also is based on the March 19 investigation, but the state's attorney's has ruled there is insuufficient evidence for suspension or revocation hearings, since there were no witnesses to actual serving of drinks.

Summoned to appear today are Clayton J. Harrison, operator of Club Jug at 4900 Nameoki road; Harold Mefford, licensee for Bowland Lanes, 5080 Nameoki road; Charles F. Adams of Diamond Inn, 4958 Nameoki road; R. A. Rapoff, listed as operator of Orchid Lounge at Bypass 66-40 and Marysville road.

Ruby Nelson of the 111 Sportsman Club, Rural Route One; and Maurice McGrew, operator of Dan's Lounge and Dan's Den, both west of Collinsville.

Janet Tanner, 1218 Granite avenue; Harold Anderson, Collinsville; Martin Aerne, 1606 Garfield avenue, and Carl Cochran, 2244 Lee avenue.

United Fund Board To Meet at Later Date

A meeting of the United Fund board of directors was canceled yesterday afternoon. The board was to have inspected a building at 1815 Edison avenue for the United Fund offices and quarters for several agencies.

Another location also is to be considered, and the special meeting will be reset for a later date.

The Diplomatic Pouch

The following letters were recently answered by the Department of State:

I came to the United States from Greece in 1961 on a student visa. I had been registered for draft into the Greek army but had obtained military deferment.

This deferment is now invalid. I am now a permanent resident of the United States, and hope to become a citizen as soon as I am able.

However, I would like to visit my family in Greece with my wife, who is an American citizen, and our two children.

The Greek consulate told me that I must pay $800 to the Greek government in order to be able to visit Greece without being drafted into the Greek army, even if I were an American citizen.

I would like to know if the Greek government has the power to draft me or to collect this fee if I am an American citizen.

C. O.
New York City

Dear Mr. O.:

The information given you by the Greek Consulate is substantially correct. Your naturalization as an American citizen would not in itself change your liability for military service under Greek law.

Americans when in Greece are subject to Greek jurisdiction, just as Greek nationals visiting or residing in the United States are subject to United States jurisdiction.

Also, as you probably are aware, naturalized United States citizens of Greek birth are not considered under Greek law to have lost their Greek citizenship.

We recommend that before you return to Greece (whether before or after you obtain American citizenship) you inform yourself thoroughly as to your military obligations under Greek law.

Under a multilateral NATO agreement, time served in the armed forces of the United States or of another NATO powers would be credited against military obligations due the Greek armed forces.

Does the State Department employ any non-white Americans in the pursuit of its affairs in the Republic of South Africa? Does it employ any native Africans in its work there?

St. Louis Committee on Africa,
University City, Mo.

Gentlemen:

The Department of State does not employ any non-white American citizens in its Embassy or consular offices in the Republic, because the South African government would not issue visas to non-white United States Foreign Service personnel for the purpose of working in South Africa.

Temporary travel and transit visas have, however, occasionally been issued to non-white American citizens.

Native Africans, Asiatics and Coloreds (mixed-blood), who are South African nationals, are employed at the Embassy in Pretoria, in the United States Information Service and at our consular offices in the Republic.

Eighteen non-whites are presently working at the Embassy and in our other offices.

These employees hold a variety of positions, such as accountant, librarian, administrative assistant, stenographer, clerk, driver, etc., functions similar to those performed by locally hired employees in our embassies and consular offices throughout the world.

'Law Explosion' Causing Concern

American courts and citizens today should be increasingly concerned about the "law explosion," a pileup of cases which congests the courts and delays justice, Circuit Judge James O. Monroe jr., of Collinsville said at Carbondale this month.

"In the general state trial courts, it is tragic irony to have thousands of untried cases, with courts open and judges on hand, but able lawyers unready or unwilling to go to work," Judge Monroe of the Third Judicial Circuit in Madison county told a journalism luncheon group at Southern Illinois University.

"It is as if the big game were scheduled, the crowd assembled, the players (litigants) eager, the rules accepted, the umpire-referees (judges) waiting, and the press, of course, watching—when with very little notice or reason, the manager-coaches (lawyers) who call the plays suddenly refused to start the game.

National Problem

"The contest of life is an exercise in frustration if you can't even get the game begun," Judge Monroe added, pointing out this situation is true in Illinois and throughout the country.

"If we ran newspapers, or shops, or schools, or hospitals like we sometimes run our courts—today's edition might appear next week, next month, or next year; today's sales might be out-of-date before delivery; teachers would check the homework and the examinations; and surgery might be postponed indefinitely," he asserted.

"The fault," he said, "lies not so much with the system as with those who man it — with some lawyers who, finding it profitable or easy, insist on being privileged characters, and with some judges who, finding it easy or unimportant, let them get by with it."

Justice Delayed—Justice Denied

Only with modern court reform have judges come to realize that it is as much their job to see that cases are promptly tried as it is to see who wins," Judge Monroe told the group of journalists, students and faculty members.

"What does the law explosion mean, in terms of congestion and delay, what are its causes, what are the possible remedies; how can we get at the condition; and what can we do about it?"

He said these are problems not only for legislators, judges and lawyers but "problems for all of us."

"Justice delayed is justice denied," he said, adding that "this is true not only for the one case that is today your neighbor's and tomorrow may be yours, but for the great amalgam—the delay and denial of justice can destroy public morale and make cynics of us all.

All Citizens Affected

"Or, effective justice can give strength to freedom and democracy and make life worth living," he added. Therefore, "Every citizen has an important stake in the fair and efficient administration of justice."

Truly, he said, "justice is everybody's business."

To illustrate the backlog problem, Judge Monroe cited 1963 statistics for the Third Judicial Circuit, which includes Alton, the Quad-Cities and Collinsville with a population over 238,000; the 21st Circuit, which is Chicago and suburbs; and two other circuits.

Caseload, Backlog Growing

In most instances, he said in discussing congestion and delay in American courts, the number of cases filed for major state trial courts in Illinois each year is increasing.

Statistics show the number moved and the number left, indicating a growing backlog—mainly in personal injury cases.

His statistics were for civil jury cases, civil non-jury cases and criminal cases.

He also pointed to the problems in magistrate courts across the country, which handle traffic cases, "quasi-criminal" cases (minor state or municipal offenses punishable by fine or short jail terms) and minor "non-criminal" cases.

'Minor' Cases Important

Judge Monroe said these magistrate-type cases may involve little dispute, few jury trials, sketchy records, and only minutes of court time per case, "but the volume is such that these courts often resemble cafeterias."

Too many of these were serious cases of "moving violations" involving substantial danger to persons or property; too many of the defendants pleaded or were found to be guilty, he said.

"And these traffic cases constitute only a part of the case volume in the so-called 'minor' courts of America."

Four Causes Cited

Causes of the law explosion, he said, are: (1) population explosion; (2) new kinds of cases such as those in housing, zoning, athletics and new gadgets resulting in product liability cases, plus the complex modes of transportation; (3) people today are prone to litigate—rather than "go to blows, we got to court"; (4) high stakes involved today in most litigation, such as cost of loss of an eye or limb.

As possible cures for the law explosion, Judge Monroe and jurists around the nation have been studying devices used an remedies available for reducing congestion, delay and caseloads.

The tremendous problems caused by the law explosion, according to Monroe, call for "much soul searching, and for our best use of law, political science, judicature and politics."

"Effective remedies must rise from candor, heartened by vision," he concluded.

Address Clarification

A motorist arrested on five charges April 17 in Madison does not live at 2427 Madison avenue, the family there advised the Press-Record this week. He once resided at 2427a Madison but moved over a year ago to another Granite City address, they reported.

Ruling Begins New Controversy Over Illinois House Districts

Attorney General Clark made few if any friends in ruling that Illinois must go through the turmoil of another House of Representatives redistricting next year.

The state already has endured one House election without districts, in 1964, and there is always the danger that new reapportionment efforts might fail due to lack of agreement by the legislature or appointed commission.

The legal opinion just announced is controversial because of two statements in the Illinois constitution. One seems to back up Clark in saying that legislators are to be elected in districts determined by a commission, in case the legislature fails to agree, and that this prevails "until a redistricting and reapportionment are thereafter made by the General Assembly." However, the constitution says further: "But there can be only one valid senatorial and representative redistricting and reapportionment during a particular decade."

Reapportionment sections of the constitution probably are going to have to be clarified and revised, particularly in regard to the Illinois Senate. In the meantime, unless the legal opinion is successfully challenged, House district boundaries will have to be revamped again after being in effect only for the two-year terms to be voted on this June and November.

The Human Element of History

John W. Allen, retired SIU faculty member whose column appears in the Press-Record, merits the 1966 "headliner" award of the Southern Illinois Editorial Association. As was pointed out, he has done more than any other person to popularize the history and folklore of southern Illinois.

A past president of the Illinois State Historical Society, Allen won recognition from the Editorial Association because he sees history not in terms of inanimate objects but "as peopled with human beings—working, playing, dreaming, doing." This is the same approach taken by SIEA-member newspapers in their method of reporting history as it happens, issue by issue.

OPPOSES TAX RELIEF FOR POLLUTION CONTROL

To the Editor:

I read in a recent edition of the Press-Record a quote from Donald F. Cairns, plant engineer at the Blast Furnace Department of Granite City Steel, wherein he was quoted in regard to Granite City air pollution as follows: "Since clean air is enjoyed by all of society, it seems appropriate that tax relief for pollution control equipment be offered."

I found this statement so hilarious that I laughed all the way to the local meeting of the Cancer Society. Surely Mr. Cairns must have had his tongue in his cheek. In any event, he now has his foot in his mouth.

The suggestion that the taxpayers pay anyone to stop polluting the air is bound to be met with reactions ranging from humorous to outraged indignation.

Mr. Cairns is reported to also have stated at a meeting that there would be occasional failures of the devices which are to be installed to control heavy emission of iron oxides that produce orange-colored smoke.

We further understand Mr. Cairns has reported to the local Air Pollution Committee that Granite City Steel now cannot give any certain cutoff date when air pollution will cease.

In essence, then, what Mr. Cairns is saying is that we are to pay Granite City Steel for an air pollution program in their plant which will be sporadic and the effective date of which is uncertain.

The position of Granite City Steel makes it obvious that this city needs a stronger air pollution ordinance.

The federal, state and local governments are attempting to stop air pollution and give us clean air to breathe. The citizens should not have to pay Granite City Steel to enjoy clean air.

The installation of these devices is not an unduly harsh burden. St. Louis industries have had such devices since the date of Mr. Tucker's Air Pollution Committee. Laclede Steel in Alton has recently installed such devices.

In none of these instances was there the suggestion that the devices would not be installed unless a tax benefit was given.

Iron Curtain Airwave Missionary to Speak

Paul Demetrius, missionary affiliated with the Foreign Mission Department of the Assemblies of God, will be featured on the missionary program of the Mitchell Assembly of God Church, 910 West Chain of Rocks road, at 10:45 a.m. Sunday.

Until 17 years of age, Demetrius was a member of the Russian Orthodox Church. After graduating from Central Bible Institute, Springfield, Mo., he has been in the ministry since 1943, serving Russian churches throughout the U. S. and Canada.

He may never be permitted to enter Russia to do missionary work, but he reaches the people there from his "Voice of Truth" studio in San Francisco; for the past 10 years he has been sending Christian messages into Iron Curtain countries.

At present he releases 34 half-hour broadcasts each week in both Russian and Ukranian. These short-wave programs are not only heard in Eurasia but also are released to Siberia, South America, Australia, New Zealand and the U. S. and Canada.

New Chance to End Ban on Sheriffs, Treasurers Succeeding Themselves

Much of the political maneuvering prior to the 1966 primary election in Madison county involves the offices of sheriff and treasurer, the only two county offices in which an individual cannot succeed himself. Whether the ban on successive terms is retained will be decided by voters in a statewide referendum this fall.

Swapping of the two jobs is common in Illinois. In not seeking the county treasurer post, Sheriff Fraundorf has indicated awareness that qualifications for the two offices are not necessarily identical. But Treasurer Musso is running for sheriff and a former sheriff candidate is seeking the treasurer nomination.

The two-term prohibition dates back to an 1880 constitutional amendment and was prompted by concern over an individual garnering too much political power while serving as tax collector. Circumstances changed with the years, but concern continued to be warranted; for more than half of the century some sheriffs amassed excessive power by winking at organized crime.

The question of whether an official should be barred from re-election boils down to the way he has performed his duties. The ban has helped turn out of office individuals who had abused public faith; it has also opened the door to corrupt officials by ending the tenure of those who had been conducting themselves honorably.

We are inclined to vote for repeal of the restriction, on the basis that many other offices are of equal or greater importance and have no such rule. And the public does have other weapons with which to "clean house" when needed, including the ballot box.

But the limitation will not be ended unless a greater portion of the population takes an interest in the issue and votes on it in November. Abolition has failed repeatedly; including in 1952 and 1958, because not enough voters marked the special ballot.

Great Fights of 1966: In This Corner, the Smokers

If readers would like to find a good discussion and/or argument starter, they need look no farther than a report by a Harvard Medical School psychologist on a study of the personalities of nearly 1400 smokers and non-smokers.

Cigaret smokers tend to be more outgoing, assertive and happy-go-lucky, it was concluded. But they were less good-natured, trusting, orderly, mannerly and self-reliant than the non-smokers interviewed. In each case, the people gave evaluations of themselves and also were judged by 25 close associates or peers on 42 different traits.

All of which probably proves only that smoking is the leading cause of surveys.

But the latest analysis may serve a constructive purpose by showing whether smoking causes certain ailments or whether the health problems result from other factors which smokers happen to share. Meanwhile, it offers fine discussion fodder, with smokers and non-smokers either defending their traits as being the best or contending that the traits have not been accurately pinpointed.

'Protect Those Defending Freedom'

A prayer by Dr. R. H. Steinkellner is being cited as expressing the central theme of the "Quad-City Day of Prayer for Boys in Viet Nam" Sunday, April 24.

Strong emphasis is being given to the fighting in Viet Nam, dealing with the reality of the warfare there rather than any other aspects.

The committee has avoided implying or denying that "God is on our side in Viet Nam" but it does say that "God can be a personal comfort to us as individuals in times of conflict such as this."

The interdenominational effort, in Granite City Jaycee sponsored, is backed by the Quad-Cities Ministerial Association but is larger in scope than any one group.

"It can be meaningful to all Quad-Cityans," the committee says in urging private prayer, participation in a sunrise service at Wilson Park and attendance later in the morning at various churches.

Overall goals are prayer for the safety of U.S. servicemen, giving of thanks for current blessings, and prayer for eventual world peace.

The prayer by Dr. Steinkellner, entitled "Let Us Pray for Brotherhood and Peace," follows:

"Great God of the Heavens, we humbly plead that in Your infinite wisdom You will inspire the leaders of the nations of men to seek and to find a solution to the problems at Viet Nam, the Cold War, and the hatreds in the minds of men.

"May peace without prejudice fill the hearts of men everywhere.

"May it be Your divine will to protect the young men who are in peril at Viet Nam and elsewhere, fighting that man may live with honor and in freedom.

"May You lead humanity to an Age of Compassion and Brotherhood.

"Great God of the Universe, we plead for the souls of those American youth who have given the last full measure that man may live in dignity — free from fear, free from want, free to speak and free to worship Thee as they desire.

"Thy will be done, Amen."

Mrs. Gavin to Outline Tour to GCAARC

At 7:30 p.m. next Monday, members of the Granite City Association for Aid to Retarded Children will hear a first hand report by Mrs. Evelyn Gavin, association president, on her recent trip to the international convention of the Retarded Children's Organization, held in Paris, France.

She also will describe her tours through facilities for the handicapped in London and Amsterdam, Holland.

Mrs. Gavin will present her report at the local group's monthly meeting at St. John United Church of Christ. The public is invited to attend. A resume of activities at the regional and state conference, attended earlier this month by Mrs. Georgia Cocagne and Mrs. Helen DeRuntz, also will be presented.

Wins Car in Contest

Mrs. Judy Moore of East St. Louis was the winner of a 1966 Corvair hardtop in the initial contest of the double dividends program now being promoted by all two-state, metropolitan-area Chevrolet dealers, it was announced this week by Jack Mathews of Mathews Chevrolet Co. here, a participant.

Homemade Bomb Fails to Explode

Venice police Tuesday were investigating the source of a homemade bomb found on the front porch of the home of Mrs. Alice Sherrod, 1208 Douglas avenue, early Tuesday morning. It had failed to explode.

Police said the living room window had been broken and whoever threw the bomb at the house apparently intended to throw it through the window into the living room.

Police reported the bomb was of unusual construction, consisting of a small glass pickle jar into which cloth and newspaper, both soaked in kerosene, had been stuffed. Four .32 caliber pistol cartridges, each wrapped individually in tissue paper, were in the kerosene-soaked newspaper. The bomb, however, had not been lighted.

It was found on the front porch, beneath the broken living room window, by Dan Sherrod, 11 when he left for school.

Annual Lecture: Big Tasks Ahead

The American press, according to one of its former members, must break with the past and become aware of the "great stakes" at issue in the world—a possible choice between Utopia and Oblivion.

Irving Dillard, presenting the annual Elijah Parish Lovejoy Lecture at Southern Illinois University this month, said newspapers are only now beginning to confront issues that have long plagued readers. He cited water pollution, the cigarette-cancer link and civil rights as examples.

Said Dillard: "The obvious role of the press now is not only to give us fuller news reports, but to specialize in accounting for the news, showing its real significance, going behind the news and showing what is coming and why, always digging for the news that broadcasters cannot or will not go after."

Dillard, professor of journalism at Princeton University and a member of the University of Illinois board, said he is as worried about "mismanaged news in newspaper offices and by newspaper editors" as he is about government efforts to manage news.

Vast Challenge Remains

"We have just begun to set the wrongs aright in the United States," Dillard said. "Although the record is shocking when we look back, let newspapers of the country now face to the front and compete with one another in constructive reporting and forward-looking editorial content that will enable us to go on with the vast job that remains before us in city after city, town after town and university after university."

Dillard cited four veteran American editors as examples of "courage and integrity, fearlessness and long devotion to journalism."

They are 82-year-old Josiah William Gitt, editor and publisher of the York (Pa.) Gazette and Daily; William T. Evjue, 83, founder and editor of the Madison (Wis.) Capital Times; John Netherland Heiskell, 83-year-old editor and president of the Arkansas Gazette; and Thomas M. Storke, editor and publisher emeritus of the Santa Barbara (Calif.) News Press, whose 90th birthday is this year.

Dillard said each has fought for years for the welfare of his community, state and nation through the medium of his newspaper.

The Lovejoy Lecture, presented each year by the SIU journalism department, is named in honor of a crusading Southern Illinois editor who was killed by a mob in Alton in 1837.

City's Bill List Totals $14,131

A bill list totaling $14,131 was approved Monday night by Granite City council members.

Larger items were $1927 paid to Illinois Power Co. for street lighting, $3177 paid to Miller-Wolf Realty Co. for premium on the city workmen compensation policy and the liability policy covering accidents in city buildings and $945 paid to Royal Chemical, Inc., for a drum of weed killer.

Other payments were to G. L. Crawford & Associates for traffic engineering services in March $127 ($12.50 an hour), $235 paid to Erwin C. Hoelscher, consultant for the Air Pollution Control commission for services in March and $133 paid to the U. S. Treasurer for rent on the sewage treatment plant tract at the Army Depot.

R. Dron Electrical Co. was paid $358 to replace a traffic signal knocked down in an accident at 20th street and Edison avenue and for maintenance of lift stations and traffic signals during March. The payment to Grand Cafe for meals furnished prisoners in the city jail in March amounted to $159 for 212 meals (75 cents each).

Allowances of $100 each were paid to Detectives Joseph Nemeth and Harry Mitchell for attending the Governor's Conference on Youth in Chicago last week.

Alderman Boyd questioned the payment to Crawford, traffic engineer, saying he would not support any renewal proposal for the $4000-a-year contract. He asked Comptroller Dooher for a report on the status of payments to the engineer to determine if the $4000 figure had been reached or surpassed.

The report is due at the next council meeting.

2 GCHS Juniors Selected For University Program

Two Granite City high school juniors have been selected to participate in a four-week mathematics program in August at St. Louis University under the auspices of the National Science Foundation.

They are Dean Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Jones, 3244 Carlson avenue, and Jon Regi Teague, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Teague, 2606 Grand avenue.

The youths, who are among an elite group of 38 other high school students chosen from the two-state metropolitan area, have been granted National Science Foundation scholarships, with an equivalent value of $350. Selection of participants was determined through academic achievement, recommendations from their respective schools and as the result of tests administered by St. Louis University faculty members.

The students, both of whom are enrolled in advanced alegbra courses at high school, and their parents will meet July 31 with university and NSF officials at St. Louis U. The course will start the following day and continue each weekday through Aug. 26. Classes will be conducted in extensive computor analysis work and advanced mathematical study.

Special Events at U. of I. For Mothers' Day Weekend

Parents of many Quad-City students enrolled at the University of Illinois are expected to attend various activities planned for "Mother's Day Weekend," slated for April 29-May 1, at the Champaign-Urbana Campus.

Highlighting the annual three-day affair will be an address by Howard K. Smith, noted news commentator, for the American Broadcasting Co., and crowning of the U. of I. May Queen and presentation of her official court.

Other events include a continental breakfast, sponsored by the Illinois Mother's Association at 9 a.m. Saturday, April 30, when guests will meet informally with Illinois U. President and Mrs. David D. Henry, together with members of the university faculty and administrative staffs.

Concerts, spotlighting the school's men's and women's glee clubs, campus tours, the Floriculture Club Flower Show, Illini Union art fair and fashion show and many other special activities also are being planned.

The Mother's Association, which annually recognizes academic excellence achieved by new freshmen at the university by presenting "Book Awards" to the student's former high school, will honor 1966 winners. This year, 66 freshmen out of 5511 achieved straight "A" academic grades.

During a three-year period since the program was established, 161 Illinois and 13 out-of-state high schools have received awards. Only three schools have achieved the honor on three separate occasions, including Granite City, Champaign and Urbana high schools.

Most recent local recipient is Terence Stephen Murtaugh of Granite City.

Four Courses For Youth Offered At Local YMCA

Registration began yesterday at the YMCA Youth Department for those interested in participating in four special courses, all scheduled to get under way next week. The new series includes classes in cooking and sewing, special craftwork, children's art and beginning square dancing.

Under the direction of experienced square dance caller, Bob Boyd, a beginner's square dance class will be conducted at 7 p.m. each Monday, starting April 25. Cost per session will be 35-cents each student.

From 4-5 p.m. each Thursday, a "Kitchen Kapers" class, involving sewing and cooking lessons, also is to be initiated next week, followed immediately from 5-6 p.m. the same evening with a special crafts session. Instructors for the two courses will be Mrs. Agnes Butler and Mrs. Faith Smith.

To conclude the new series of YMCA youth programs, a children's art class, conducted by Mrs. Naomi Owen, featuring instruction in basic drawing and sketching, will start at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, April 30.

Cost for each of the seven-week courses, with exception of square dance sessions, has been set at $3 per student, David Walker, YMCA youth director said. Additional information on registration may be obtained by calling the "Y" at TR 6-7200.

Building May Soon Go

Over 300 DeMolays Have Used GC Police Firing Range

Over 300 DeMolays have participated in rifle club activity since the Granite City DeMolay Hotshots organized seven years ago under the sponsorship of the Tri-City Shrine Club.

The club is hopeful that the city of Granite City will be able to get a lower monthly rent payment to keep the city's firing range in Lincoln Place functioning. The club is permitted to use the range.

To provide right-of-way for Federal Aid Route 151, the city sold the range building to the state for $30,000, and the state has notified the city, the rental figure will be $120 a month. Mayor Partney presently is conferring with state highway department officials to get a lower rent cost to keep the building in use for at least another year until it has to be moved for roadway construction.

A decision on the city's continued use of the building is to be made prior to May 1.

Origin of Club

The club was the original idea of Roy Wilimzig, now chief Rabban of the Ainad Temple in East St. Louis. Wilimzig is co-director of the group along with Charles Voss.

Mayor Partney, Julian Smith, Voss and Paul Moore, retired Granite City police department lieutenant, were instrumental in organizing the club in 1959. The First Granite City National Bank and the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank along with the Shrine sponsors helped finance the club when it began.

The club, which has met regularly at the Granite City police firing range on Wednesday evenings between 7 and 9 o'clock since its inception, operates under the rules and safety regulation of the National Rifle Association which chartered the club in 1960. Its safety record is rated excellent.

The boys fire .22 caliber rifles under strict rules and supervision and shoot at authentic National Rifle Association targets. With equipment furnished by the sponsoring organization participants sustain only the slight expense of shells and targets which normally might run to 60 cents a night.

The club has had numerous qualifiers for rifle competition during the years and in 1962 was Great Lakes divisional national champions in the junior division of the National Rifle Association.

300 Attend GCHS Annual Spring Prom

Approximately 150 couples attended Granite City high school's recent annual spring prom held in Memorial gymnasium. The gala affair was presented under the auspices of the Student Council, with junior members comprising the arrangement committee.

In a setting of palm trees, grass huts and flowers, this year's formal event, based on the theme, "Polynesian Paradise," reflected a colorful tropical island scene. Co-chairmen included Don Kirksey, Kathy Holmes, Carol Harris, Alice Cross and Ginger Briggs, assisted by Mary Berosky, Chris Dye, Jim Greve, Steve Mance, Ron Turner, Debbie Paulett and Pam Swan.

Four Local Marines End Recruit Training

Marine Privates Larry D. Keel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan T. Keel of 2502 E. 27th street; Billy K. Stearns, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Stearns of 4925 Maryville road; Larry L. Mangiaracino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy J. Mangiaracino of 505 Kirkpatrick Homes, and Rex L. Waggoner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis M. Waggoner of 2411 Hemlock avenue, have been graduated from Marine recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at San Diego.

During their eight weeks of intensified recruit training under veteran noncommissioned officer Drill Instructors, they learned small arms marksmanship, bayonet fighting and methods of self-protection. They also received instruction in military drill, history and traditions of the Marine Corps, and other academic subjects.

They will undergo four weeks of individual combat training and four weeks of basic specialist training in military occupational fields before being assigned to permanent units.

Tomorrow is the day that gets here just when you have today's problems figured out.

EXPLORER SCOUT, George Motsegood, 17, receives his God and Country award from the Rev. Paul Dicks, rector of St. Bartholomew Episcopal Church. He is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Motsegood, 2825 Idaho street, and the late George Motsegood.

God and Country Award Winner

George Motsegood, 17, a member of Explorer Post 12, was presented the God and Country award by Rev. Paul Dicks, rector of St. Bartholomew Episcopal Church, during Sunday worship services at the church. To qualify for the award, the youth had received extensive instruction over a lengthy period from Rev. Dicks and the minister's predecessor, Rev. Fr. David Nyberg.

The explorer scout, a Granite City high school senior, is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Motsegood, 2825 Idaho street, and the late George Motsegood, who had served as assistant advisor to the Nedringhaus PTA-sponsored post prior to his death.

54 Quad-City Students are State Scholarship Winners

Fifty-four Quad-City area winners of 1966-67 state scholarships are being announced today by Dr. Lloyd S. Michael, chairman of the Illinois State Scholarship Commission at Deerfield.

The local students were among a total of 9940 who qualified on the basis of high school academic record and performance on the required examination.

Of the total, 3662 students have been offered monetary awards totaling $2,206,044; honorary awards have been granted to 5018 and 1260 have rejected continuance in the program by choosing out-of-state or unapproved colleges.

All 9940 students will receive certificates of merit in recognition of their achievement and will have until Sept. 1 to inform the commission of their final college plans.

32,800 Compete

More than 32,800 high school seniors competed for 1966-67 state scholarships. Eighty-eight percent of all Illinois high schools have winners in this year's program.

Each student who qualifies must be a citizen of the United States and an Illinois resident of good moral character. The Scholarships Law insures geographical distribution of awards by providing for at least two scholarships within each legislative district. Awards are applicable only to approved colleges within the state. Recipients of this year's awards are planning to attend 84 of the approved colleges in Illinois.

In explaining the awards system, Dr. Joseph D. Boyd, executive director of the commission, said monetary award winners will receive full or partial payment of tuition and fees up to $1000 a year at approved Illinois colleges of their choice. The average award for the 3662 new monetary winners is $602.

Honorary awards provide recognition for outstanding scholastic achievement as well as enable students to request monetary assistance in subsequent undergraduate years if their financial circumstances change. All awards are renewable upon annual application. The 74th General Assembly has appropriated $10,000,000 for State Scholarships for the current biennium.

Financial Needs

A committee especially chosen for knowledge and experience in the area of financial aid assists the Scholarship Commission in evaluating financial need. A detailed analysis designed to assess the financial strength of the applicant and his family is applied to each monetary award application. "Need" always is relative to the cost of the institution which the applicant chooses to attend.

The commission members are: chairman, Dr. Lloyd S. Michael of Evanston; vice - chairman, Monsignor W. E. McManus of Chicago; secretary, Dr. Richard G. Browne of Normal; Mrs. Arnold Alexander of Evanston; Kenneth Anglemire of Chicago; Mrs. Faith J. Killings of Chicago; and Mrs. L. Goebel Patton of West Frankfort.

High school graduates of 1967 who wish to participate in the 1967-68 State Scholarship Program will be required to take the American College Testing Program examination on one of two scheduled dates: Saturday, April 23, 1966, or Saturday, June 25, 1966. Students desiring information about the State Scholarship Program should contact their high school guidance counselor or principal. The Commission office is located at 730 Waukegan road, Deerfield, Illinois.

Ceremonies May 8 and May 13

2-Campus Showings of New Buildings at SIU and SIU-SW

Southern Illinois University will showcase new buildings at its two campuses in a series of public events and ceremonies beginning May 8.

The kickoff will be a Sunday open house at which the Arena, the Technology Building Group and Lawson Hall—all at Carbondale—will be the center of activities ranging from space satellite and rocket displays to commemorative ceremonies honoring the late College of Education Dean Douglas E. Lawson, after whom one of the buildings has been named.

Ceremonies at the $25 million SIU-SW Campus here, opened to students last fall, will begin May 13 when Gov. Otto Kerner presents a special address there at 10:30 a.m. The campus will be host to a variety of public events through May 22, all designed to point up special features and functions of the new campus.

Carbondale's open house will begin officially at 2 p.m. Sunday, May 8, with the $4.2 million domed Arena as the starting point for continuous guided bus and walking tours of the entire campus. Visitors are asked to park at the large lot south of the Arena.

Inside, the School of Technology plans an array of exhibits including some especially arranged through the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. These will be located on the building's sweeping concourse. The floor itself will be the focus of athletic exhibitions and other attractions illustrating multiple purposes of the Arena.

The same afternoon, campus visitors will be invited to the ceremonies of Lawson Hall, lecture hall wing of a $3.2 million office-classroom group which is designed for the most modern application of audio-visual teaching techniques.

Harold Benjamin, former visiting professor of education at SIU and author of the educational classic, "The Sabretooth Curriculum," will deliver a commemorative address at 4 p.m. in honor of Douglas Lawson. A member of the faculty for 28 years and the winner of SIU's first "Great Teacher Award" in 1960, Lawson died in 1961 at the age of 57.

A three-screen slide-projection program honoring Lawson will be shown continuously at Lawson Hall beginning at 2 p.m. The commemorative ceremony will be a special guest at the ceremonies and at a reception following them.

Student and faculty guides will take visitors through the three-building Technology Group, near the Arena, throughout Sunday afternoon. The School of Technology will present a five-day "Symposium on Technology and Humanity" during the rest of the week and a variety of other events, including Scholastic Honors Day (May 12) have been scheduled at the Arena.

Cornerstone-laying events for two new 17-story residence halls (Brush Towers) and an open house for the Communications Building have been scheduled June 10-11, commencement day and Alumni day.

Lure of Campus Recreation As SIU Includes Large Lake

Students at Southern Illinois University can swim, fish, canoe, picnic, take a nature walk or ren a tandem bicycle without even leaving the campus at Carbondale.

The 40-acre lake, located on the southern part of the Carbondale campus, is surrounded by 25 acres of natural wooded land and two-miles of lighted-asphalt walks.

University residence halls and sorority and fraternity houses border the northern edge of the lake.

Originally known as Thompson Lake, the body of water was developed after the Civil War to provide a pond on which to cut ice. In 1959 SIU drained the lake, cleared it of debris and began developing recreation facilities.

Such facilities include a 650-foot swimming beach with a full-time lifeguard and bath locker house; a boat dock renting row boats and canoes; sheltered picnic domes; fishing piers; and picnic tables.

Sports equipment such as rods and reels, softballs, bats, gloves and croquet sets, horseshoes and picnic baskets are available to students at no charge.

During the summer months, dances, lectures and other student activities are held at a large dome on the lake's edge.

Grant Completes Fund For New SIU Building

The U. S. Office of Education has approved a $2,158,000 Higher Education Facilities grant of tax funds to Southern Illinois University at Carbondale for construction of a large addition to the SIU Life Science building.

The grant, the second approved under the act for building purposes, boosts total available project funds to $9,800,000. Major portion of construction will be from a $6,600,000 allocation through the Illinois Buiding Authority.

With financing completed, SIU plans to break ground for the project early next year. The four-story structure will be as long as a football field and will enclose more than five acres of space. Present construction scheduled call for beginning of work next February and occupancy in the 1969 fall term.

The building is designed primarily for graduate instruction and research in botany, microbiology, physiology, psychology and zoology. It will include faculty research and office space for those departments as well as the Cooperative Fisheries and Cooperative Wildlife Research laboratories.

Mayor Says Bonds Aid War Effort

Mayor Donald Partney today appealed to residents of Granite City to buy more U. S. savings bonds as a means of fighting inflation and supporting the efforts of American forces in Vietnam.

His appeal came in response to a letter from Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey which stressed the part savings can play in lessening inflationary pressures in the economy. The vice-president's letter was sent to the mayors of 1600 communities and was a follow-up to President Johnson's appeal, made at the recent Washington Conference of the National League of Cities, for local leadership in the battle against inflation.

The president told the Washington conference that he had already discussed the inflation problem with business and labor groups, as well as with state governors, and was now extending the same invitation to municipal officials to exercise leadership in keeping pressures on the economy within manageable limits. His list of suggestions included price and wage restraint and postponement of purchases for capital expansion.

The vice-president, in his letter to Mayor Partney, added to this list the encouragement of savings bond purchases by the public as an important anti-inflationary action for municipal officials to take.

Partney said he endorses the practice of systematic thrift with savings bonds. "For the individual, they are a safe and sure method of accumulating reserves for the future," he said. "For the nation, bonds play a vital part in the wise management of the public debt.

"Since they are a completely non-inflationary form of government borrowing, the increased holding of these bonds by the public will strengthen the economy at a critical time. It will also give our citizens a practical means of supporting the efforts of our men in Vietnam."

Rules State's Attorneys Need Not Live in County

A candidate for state's attorney need not be a resident of the county in which he seeks office, Attorney General William G. Clark has held in an opinion, a summary of current rulings showed this week.

Clark announced appointment of E. Frederick C. Gain as an assistant attorney general to assist in the handling of air and water pollution matters. Gain is both an attorney and a graduate engineer.

Budget Figures Due Next Week

Preliminary budget figures are to be ready for several departments for next week's meeting of the Granite City council, it was reported Monday night. Passage must be carried out by late July.

Mayor Partney offered a word of caution to council committee chairmen and department heads in figuring 1967 expenditures, since the city was hit with a $276,000 tax cut for the 1966 operating year. He explained the cut probably will carry over again next year.

The tax cut resulted in an order by State's Atty. Joseph Bartylak for city tax rates to be held to the limitations set by the Hodge-Butler tax law.

Finance committee chairman Rutledge called for as many departmental budgets to be submitted next week as are nearing completion. Sternberg reported the Street budget is ready except for special projects which the committee hopes to compile this week.

Mayor Partney also advised the council a change to a City Buildings committee may be made in May and that any items for the buildings could be eliminated from departmental budgets and diverted to the new committee. The new committee would eliminate the City Hall committee.

Rail Crossing Repairs Unsatisfactory

GC Adds 4½ Acres; Reaps Funds from State

Granite City added another 4½ acres Monday night with annexation of the Peace Lutheran Church site on Stratford lane by the council Monday night. The tract also borders on the proposed extension of Maryville road.

In a wide variety of business the council belittled a railroad's report of crossing repairs and then welcomed reports from the state of January sales tax for the city coffers amounting to $21,550 and an allocation of $18,319 motor fuel tax for March.

Council members debunked a report by the GM&O Railroad that it had repaired its 19th and 20th street crossings. The letter was referred to the Street committee for further action.

Held in abeyance was a letter from East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. and a related letter from the Illinois Commerce Commission concerning relocation of a fire hydrant at West 23rd street and Ohio avenue.

Refusal by Water Co.

The water company refused to relocate the hydrant from the south side of West 23rd street to the north side unless the city pays the cost. The relocation was sought several weeks ago to provide a water line for a house trailer.

The ICC letter said its regulations would not require the water company to install a line to the trailer unless it could be proven the trailer had been situated there at least three years. Alderman Nonn, who is seeking the hydrant relocation, said proof could be given that the house trailer has been on the lot nearly four years.

Referred to the water company was a letter to the city by Miss Dorothea Stahlhut of Edwardsville seeking a larger water line for her building at 2110 Delmar avenue where a confectionery now located at 21st street and Delmar avenue is to move.

A lone bid of $1465 from William Baker Co. of Venice to tuckpoint the old downtown firehall on 19th street—now the civil defense building—was accepted by the council.

Missouri Ave. Racetrack

On a complaint by Alderman Green, the police department was instructed to patrol Missouri avenue and 22nd street at shift changing time for A. O. Smith Corp. to halt races by the shift workers. "They're trying to make the streets a raceway," Green told the council.

Referred to the City Hall committee was quotation by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. of a cost of $192 to relocate the city hall switchboard from an anteroom in the mayor's office on the third floor to an information booth in the second floor lobby.

The committee also is studying a proposal for framing an aerial map of the city prepared several years ago for the master sewer and drainage program. Mayor Partney said the aerial photo would prove invaluable in future years and should be framed and placed under glass. Cost for the 48x107-inch frame would be $166.

The city inspection department was instructed to advise the East St. Louis owner of a building in the 2000 block of Missouri avenue that repairs to steps are to be carried out immediately or a city warrant would be filed on a charge of maintaining a nuisance.

Alderman Green pointed out that local owners of such property are arrested if they fail to comply with city orders.

Placed on file was a letter from the Organization for Community Action, thanking city officials for their support and cooperation in the continuing program to secure warning devices at the Maryville road railroad crossing, which is outside the city limits.

Permission was given for one, two or all three of the Fire and Police Commissioners to attend a meeting of the state association to be held May 7 at Mattoon.

Notice of the willingness of Paul Harshany to rededicate an alley easement along three lots in the 2500 block of Washington avenue was received by the council. The acceptance paves the way for construction of apartment buildings along the east side of the street by James Green, developer.

19,355 Jobs at Major Firms by Mid-May Likely

Employment in the Quad-City area during mid-March stood at 18,833 persons at 65 reporting industries and businesses, and the total is expected to reach 19,355 within the next month, according to a report by M. A. Thompson, manager of the Illinois State Employment Service in Granite City.

The March employment total is an increase of 1206 over the January figure of 17,627, but is 484 persons less than the March employment figure of 19,317 in 1965.

Most of the employment change is reflected in manufacturing industries, where 28 reporting firms had total employment in March of 14,438, a rise of 963 since January 1966. In March a year ago, the same firms had 15,232. The rolls in these industries are expected to be back up to 14,886 by May 15, the report says.

Thirteen firms manufacturing nondurable goods reported March employment of 1309, up 394 over the January figure of 915 and only four less than the 1349 working in March 1965. The total expected at these firms May 15 is 1316.

Non-manufacturing firms reported 4395 persons employed in March, an increase over the January payrolls of 4152 persons and 310 more than the March 1965 employment of 4085. May employment in this field is expected to reach 4489.

Federal, state and local governments reported a total March employment of 1800 persons, compared to 1548 in January and 1433 in March a year ago. May employment in this field is expected to reach 1864.

Family Service Agency's Annual Dinner Set Monday

The annual dinner meeting Family Service Agency of Southwestern Illinois — a Tri-Cities United Fund Agency — will be held at 6:30 p.m. next Monday in the Gateway Room of the Illinois Club in East St. Louis.

Rev. Bernard J. Coughlin, SJ, dean of the school of social service at St. Louis University, will be the guest speaker. His topic will be "The Community is the Client."

Terryl Francis, local attorney, is vice-president of the Family Service Agency board, and other local members are Dr. Felicia Koch and Randall Robertson, also a local lawyer.

The agency's office is located in the Murphy building in East St. Louis, and office space is being sought in the Quad-Cities. Michael H. Dalton is the executive director.

Edwin J. Sieron, president of the agency board, said Father Coughlin holds a masters degree in social work from the University of Southern California and a doctoral degree in social work from Brandeis University. He is a member of the National Association of Social Workers, the Council on Social Work Education and a frequent contributor to professional journals.

Persons wanting to make reservations for the dinner may telephone the agency office.

Sieron pointed out that Father Coughlin's topic is very timely as the agency's anti-poverty project "Operation Family," which was developed by the executive director, Dalton, has just been approved for funding by the Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington, D. C.

During the meeting Dalton will show a series of color slides which illustrate "Operation Family." Dalton said that the program has been approved by the Economic Opportunity Commission of St. Clair county.

Answer Promised Week After Job Corps Application

Efforts to increase enrollment in the nation-wide Job Corps program will be made through a three-week experimental project, it was announced today by Malcolm A. Thompson, Granite City office director for the Illinois Employment Security Division.

Modification of stringent preliminary procedures, together with transmittal of basic information by telephone to the state office for relay immediately to Job Corps headquarters in Washington, D. C., may reduce the waiting period for recruits of four or five months to less than one week, Thompson said.

Processing of applicants at the local level is to be accelerated, including waiver of physical examinations unless the prospective trainee has an obvious medical defect. Less time will be spent in checking law violations and investigating social behavior patterns.

Job Corps recruits must still complete a questionnaire and basic reading test.

Once an enlistee is accepted, he is sworn into the Corps in a ceremony similar to Army induction, and is issued travel orders and plane tickets. Local employment office personnel escort the trainee to the airport.

Eight Months to Two Years

Job Corps recruits are assigned to rural and urban training centers by the national agency, Thompson explained. Training periods range from eight months to two years, depending on the type of instruction program the recruit prefers.

Recruits, between the ages of 16 and 21, are housed at more than 30 U. S. Job Corps centers.

Many of the centers are not being used to their capacity.

Since July 27, 1965, ten Quad-City youths have enlisted for Job Corps training. Another trainee may be added to the list pending acceptance of his application this week.

Local youths currently are in the training program at such widely separated locations as Pleasanton, Calif., Rodman Center, New Bedford, Mass., Mountain Home, Id., Kicking Horse Camp, Dixon, Mont., Box Elder Center, Nemo, S. D., Timberlake, Ore., Ojibway, Mich., Gary, Ind., Golconda, Ill., and the Kilmer Center, Edison, N. J.

Unemployed youths interested in the Job Corps program can obtain additional information at the employment office, 2050 Iowa street.

200-Acre Shrine Attracts 820,000 Visitors in One Year

The uniquely beautiful, 200-acre National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows on Highway 460 near Belleville has become, within a span of six years, a principal attraction for visitors to the midwest, according to the Region 8 Tourism Council.

For the more than 820,000 persons from all 50 states and many foreign countries who journeyed to the Shrine last year, the opportunity to visit this unusual devotional site proved to be an inspiring, rewarding and memorable experience.

The Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows is probably the greatest force behind what is, perhaps, the oldest devotion in honor of the Virgin Mary. According to tradation, the Mother of God appeared in a dream to Pope Liberius and a noble Roman couple and instructed them to erect a church on the spot they would find covered with snow the next morning.

Historical Data

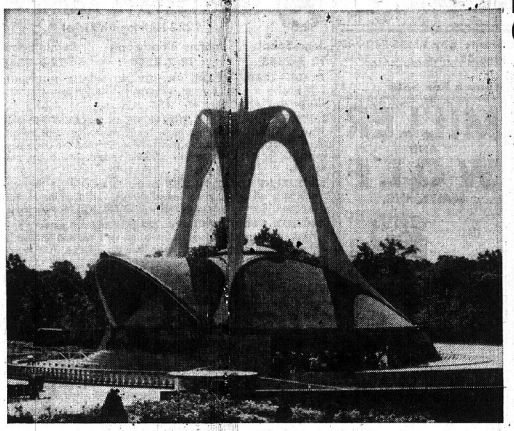

On the morning of August 5, 352 A.D., the Esquiline Hill in Rome was covered with snow. The first Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows was built immediately. The church, named St. Mary Basilica, still stands today.

The revitalization of this devotion took place more than 1600 years later at St. Henry's Seminary in Belleville. The Shrine started as a simple picture and a few candles in a corner of the seminary chapel. Special devotions at the modest Shrine soon attracted wide attention, and the number of visitors soon made it necessary to build a special chapel on the seminary grounds.

Even this chapel soon became inadequate. Accordingly, in 1958, the Oblate Fathers, directors of the Shrine, purchased 80 acres of land on the bluffs overlooking the Mississippi River Valley, the present site of the Shrine. The building of the Shrine, the largest outdoor devotional site in the United States, got under way immediately. Since then additional acreage has been purchased and many devotional installations have been constructed.

Huge Amphitheatre

There is much to see at this site dedicated to the Virgin Mary. The beautiful, majestic Outdoor Altar at the base of a huge amphitheatre, which is capable of accommodating 20,000 persons, is the heart of the Shrine. As visitors move along the roads leading through the Shrine, they are immediately attracted by the structure's towering, graceful, symbolic "M" and spire atop the curved shell which covers and protects the magnificent statue of the Virgin Mary.

OUTDOOR ALTAR at the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows near Belleville with the symbolic "MW" and spire atop the curved shell which covers an altar and statue of the Virgin Mary. The Shrine attracted over 800,000 visitors last year.

Visitors are always amazed to learn that behind and beneath the shell of the Outdoor Altar are the Perpetual Adoration Chapel, the Relic Chapel, the Christ the King Chapel and Rosary Court containing 15 altars for private Masses. A large, colorful mosaic panel behind each of these black marble altars depicts one of the mysteries of the rosary.

Outdoor devotional facilities in colorful garden areas include a replica of the famed Lourdes Grotto in France, the Stations of the Cross and the Meditation Garden containing the reflection pool with Angelus bells.

Cafeteria, Motel

St. Joseph's Hall, in addition to serving as an information center, contains an excellent cafeteria where meals and snacks are offered daily at modest cost and a gift shop where visitors may purchase mementos of their visit to the Shrine. Pilgrims Inn, a new motel-type structure, is available for persons desiring lodgings on the Shrine grounds.

The Shrine has been engaged in a continual development program since 1958. Under construction at the present time is the new FM radio station and the Apartment Community of Our Lady of the Snows, a retirement residence for persons age 62 and over. The radio station is expected to go on the air this summer. The Apartment Community, a complex of cottage dwellings and a five-story building, will contain 150 apratments of various sizes and will accommodate 250 persons. It is expected to be ready for occupancy this Fall.

The Shrine is open all year round and visitors, individuals or groups of all sizes, are always welcome. Anyone interested in additional information about the Shrine can obtain a full-color, illustrated folder by writing for Visitors Brochure, National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows, Belleville.

Illinois Lincoln Heritage Top Tourist Attraction

Illinois as "The Land of Lincoln" is among the greatest tourist attractions in the country and should be recognized as such, particularly by the people who live in the state, Morrison "Scotty" Miller of French Village told members of the Granite City Kiwanis Club at their regular weekly meeting at the Rose Bowl Monday night.

Miller, a member of the East St. Louis Toastmaster Club who came to this country from Scotland 15 years ago, said that more than a billion dollars is spent by visitors to Illinois each year through advertising the Land of Lincoln theme as an attraction to vacationers and tourists seeking historical attractions.

The money, he pointed out, is spent at motels, hotels, in recreation areas, at antique shops and other places catering to travelers, and that taxes paid on such income aids, in turn, state and local governing bodies.

Information obtained at the Illinois Pavilion at the World's Fair in New York has revealed that visitors from foreign countries who were ignorant of the historical background of Illinois toured the state and its Lincoln heritage after learning of the attractions.

Top attractions in Illinois, Miller said, are New Salem Park and the surrounding area rich in the Lincoln heritage, and the city of Chicago which has more historical attractions and more forms of entertainment for people of all ages than any other area in the state.

Miller pointed out that Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin now are advertising a new concept of tourist travel over a "trail system" called the "Hiawatha Trail."

The Trail will extend through the four states following the exact route of the pioneers. Every town or city on the route will be organized to display every facet of history.

Miller urged that every person planning vacation tours should travel over the historical routes of this country, starting with the Lincoln Trail, rather than spending their money in foreign countries from which no financial return is made to this country. Every person meeting a vacationist should do their best to route them through the historical routes and to the historical spots of Illinois, he said.

William Seebold and Wilbur Waggoner presented the club with an agreement between the St. Louis Drivers' Association and the Granite City Kiwanis Club for an Outboard Motor Exhibition to be given Aug. 7 on the Mississippi River near the Hartford Canal. The affair is to begin at 1 p.m. It will be the Fifth annual Kiwanis Bowline Boat race to be held.

Resident Survey Planned on Jr. College Program

An area resident survey which public opinion on the feasibility of establishing a Junior College District in Madison, Jersey, Calhoun, and Macoupin counties is to be conducted by the Lewis and Clark Educational Foundation, it was announced Tuesday by John D. Mellott, chairman of the public relations committee.

Responsibility for administering the survey has been assigned to members of Mellot's committee and includes Morris Miles of the Granite City Jaycees, who will make the survey in the Quad-City area.

Residents of the four-county area will be asked eight questions concerning the feasibility of the Junior College district. The Foundation is composed of education and civic leaders of the area and is a non-profit organization dedicated to determining the need for an area community college.

The area resident survey will be one phase of a three-part survey effort being conducted by the Community College Feasibility Survey team from Southern Illinois University. The other two phases will involve a parent survey and student survey.

The parents of high school juniors in the four-county area are being asked for their thoughts about their children attending an area community college. The third phase, a high school student survey, is being conducted in the 10th and 11th grades. The students are being asked about their future education plans, fields of interest and their attitude toward a community college.

The area resident survey which will begin immediately will be accomplished in some areas by Jaycee organizations. Other groups such as boards of education, PTA's, Mothers Clubs and others will assist in the interviewing.

Bus Squeezes Auto Against Utility Pole

An auto was squeezed into a utility pole by a bus at Niedringhaus and Madison avenues Monday evening. No one was hurt.

Police said a Continental Trailways bus operated by James Sally jr. of Nashville, Tenn., and an auto driven by Kent Crow of 2404 Sunbury avenue, were both headed south and stopped for the traffic signal on Madison avenue.

The bus was in the center lane and Crow was in the outer lane as both vehicles started to make right turns. Crow's auto was damaged on both sides by the bus and the pole.

Faces Traffic Charge

Holle F. Kerlt, 52, of Belleville, was arrested by Venice police at 5:20 p.m. Tuesday on a charge of careless driving. Kerlt was arrested at Fourth street and Broadway where, officers said, he ran a stop sign. He posted his driver's license as bond for a May 4 hearing.

Motorist in Accident Faces Yield Charge

A charge of failure to yield right-of-way was placed Monday afternoon against Robert Diller, Rural Route One, following a two-car collision at Waterman and Vine avenues.

Police said Diller was going south on Vine, and the other auto was being operated west on Waterman by Catherine Parker, 2478 Watermah avenue.

Speeding Charge

A charge of speeding in a 20-mph school zone in the 3000 block of Madison avenue was placed against Raymond Hash, 140 Voight place, Tuesday morning.

*HERE'S HOW CHRYSLER'S ENGINE AND DRIVE TRAIN WARRANTY CONTINUES TO PROTECT YOU. Chrysler Corporation warrants all of the following vital parts of this car for 50,000 miles or five years after delivery to the original purchaser, whichever comes first, during which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repaired at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts or labor: engine block, head and internal parts, transmission case and internal parts (excepting manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings. REQUIRED MAINTENANCE: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 6 months furnish evidence of this required service to a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage.

Effort Continues To Get Rent Cut On Pistol Range

The Police committee headed by Alderman Whitmer will join forces with Mayor Partney in an effort to get a reduction in the state highway department's $120 monthly rent for the former city firing range.

The range building, erected in Lincoln Place through a cooperative effort of the police department, construction unions and the city, is to be razed to make way for the new Great River Road. It was sold to the state for $30,000 several months ago.

Since the roadway is not to be constructed through Granite City for over a year, the state is offering to rent the building to the city for the $120 monthly fee. A decision is due May 1.

Alderman Sternberg suggested the city invest the $30,000 fund for 4% interest which would almost cover the rent cost for a year. His recommendation is under study, and the Police committee was instructed to work with Mayor Partney in getting a reduction in the rent fee.

Used by Others

Partney pointed out the range building is used by youth and men's pistol groups in addition to the police department. Alderman Basarich said it would be better to follow Sternberg's suggestion than to permit the building to be vacated and become a target for vandals.

The $30,000 received by the city is earmarked for construction of a police department building with offices, a jail and pistol range. It would be located on the city-owned block on Madison avenue between the main fire station and post office.

An architect contract with Virgil Dulgeroff for design of the new building was to have been presented to the council Monday night but was not available.

VFW Auxiliary Presents 300 Flags to Girl Scouts

A gift of three hundred 12x18-inch American flags by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary to District Four, River Bluffs Girl Scout Council, has been made for use at Camp Lakota this summer.

The Day Camp will be held the weeks of June 13, 20 and 27 and there will be 100 girls at the camp each week.

Mrs. Arline Brinkmeyer, director of Day Camp, received the gift presented by Mrs. Catherine Rojas, Americanism chairman of the VFW Auxiliary.

Summer Class Registration At SIU-SW Opens May 21st

Registration dates for summer classes at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Campus will be May 14 through 21, registrar John H. Schnabel said today. The summer quarter begins June 20.

Students enrolled for the current quarter may pick up their appointment cards for summer class registration on or after May 2 at the new campus registrar's office. New students entering for the first time will receive appointment cards through the mail.

All high school graduates who expect to begin work at SIU-SW Campus during the summer should forward a high school transcript and application for admission to the admissions office as soon as possible, with June 1 being the deadline. Application blanks may be obtained by coming in person, calling or writing the admissions offices at the new campus, Alton or East St. Louis.

"Freshmen students will find it to their advantage to begin their collegiate programs in the summer quarter," according to Dr. Robert W. MacVicar, vice-president for academic affairs. "At this time they will be likely to find smaller classes, often staffed by senior professors. The orientation to college life during the summer often produces a more successful academic year and the University urges students to consider this option."

With the new campus now well established, and because summer enrollment normally is relatively light compared to the fall, winter and spring quarters, almost all summer courses will be offered this year at the new campus. Some students, however, will have science courses at the East St. Louis center because laboratory facilities are available there and the new science building will not be ready in time for the summer quarter. The Alton center will be used mainly for scientific research by faculty members during the coming summer months.

Not as Much as Last Year

City Will Use $183,000 Sales Tax for Operating Costs

Use of surplus funds for operation of the city—an annual procedure for Granite City—is not as heavy this year as it was during the 1964-65 fiscal year.

The council voted Monday night to transfer $183,281 of the half-million dollar sales tax surplus to the diminishing general fund accounts and also to use $80,000 of the $105,395 tax collection commissions for the same purpose.

In the past fiscal year, the transfers amounted to $248,500 from the sales tax account and $90,000 from the tax commissions. The tax commission account is in the general fund.

Transfers are made each April —the closing month of the city's fiscal year. On March 31, after 11 months, there were eight of the city's 17 general fund accounts with deficits.

Recipient Accounts

The $263,281 being transferred will go to the following general fund accounts:

Fire department, $30,000; police department, $76,000; general government, $30,000; sanitation, $20,000; school crossing guards, $14,000; street department, $15,000; city hall maintenance, $15,000; contingent fund, $6000; dog fund, $7000, and pumping station fund, $2000. A transfer to the special city improvements fund was $48,281.

General fund disbursements in the 11-month period amounted to $1,173,061 for an average of $106,600 a month. The March 31 balance for the 16 general fund accounts was $68,121. The city's overall balance, which includes special accounts, was $944,425 at the end of the 4-month period.

General Fund Deficits

The general fund accounts with deficits on March 31 were—

Pumping station, $1289; general government, $20,177; city hall, $7184; police department, $39,986; sanitation, $4409; dog catching, $2698; contingent fund, $4087, and school crossing guards, $12,220.

The general fund accounts with balances at the end of 11 months were—

Fire department, $3612; water and hydrant rental, $8474; street department, $15,885; street lighting, $4017; inspection department, $10,374; election fund, $2684; interest and judgment, $8090; tax commissions, $105,395; and city planning, $1639.

Among the special accounts the only deficits were for maintenance of sewers, $97,362, and the special city improvements fund, $48,281.

Balances in the other special accounts were—

Municipal retirement, $12,457; working cash, $133,968; parking meters, $92,403; public library, $78,693; police pension, $21,471; firemen pension, $29,232; arterial street maintenance, $937; unclaimed rebate, $18,787; civil defense, $3084; sales tax, $512,339; southern extension sidewalk paving, $80; special police building fund, $29,069; special street fund, $27,916; special fire truck fund, $54,000, and motor fuel tax projects, $8007.
